the lock at the owner's expense. Bikes will also be impounded if not licensed.

Don McCarty, chairer of the transportation committee and director of Career Planning and Placement at the University, said the proposal is a result of the "tremendous increase in bicycles on all campuses. People have been tying bikes to everything and the problem has been growing."

"The primary thing in my view is that all bicycles would be licensed," said McCarty. "One of the major concerns is the theft problem, and that could be considerably curbed if bicycles were licensed."

McCarty also said that problems of bicycles blocking handicapped persons is another consideration in the proposal.

McCarty says the proposal could go into effect by next fall. However, it must first be approved by the State Board of Higher Education.

The proposal will go to the Board following public hearings on April 13 from 12 to 1 p.m. and on April 14 from 3 to 4:30 p.m. The hearings will be held in the EMU, and the room number will be posted.

Written comments on the bicycle regulation proposal may be sent to Don McCarty, P.O. Box 3257, Eugene, Ore., 97403.

Flu vaccine may be hard to get

WASHINGTON (AP) — The drug industry said Wednesday it probably cannot make enough vaccine by next fall to protect every American against the swine flu virus that killed 20 million persons worldwide in the 1918-19 epidemic.

But C. Joseph Stetler, president of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, also told congress there is no reason to believe everyone will want to be vaccinated or that the vaccine will be available everywhere.

The four U.S. drug companies licensed to make vaccine can produce enough to satisfy needs, however, Stetler said, if remaining scientific issues are resolved and if Congress grants the companies limited immunity from anti-trust laws and indemnifies them for liability law suits arising from the vaccine.

Government witnesses have testified that persons who are allergic to eggs should not take the vaccine, but that most other persons should experience no more discomfort than a sore arm for a few days.
