MISCELLANEOUS

Attention all UO students who are participating in the National Student Exchange program. Please come to Room 202 EMU (International Education Center) to pick up your admissions packet. The deadline is Friday, April 9 at 4 p.m., if you still plan to attend.

Lack of sound self-esteem is the fundamental reason one does not "feel good" about oneself and life in general. Give achieving sound self-esteem top priority in your life by registering for an eight-week assertion training workshop beginning April 9, from 2:30 to 4. Sign up at Career Planning and Placement, Room 246, Susan Campbell Hall.

The Community Service Admissions Committee has met and is prepared to review all incoming applications. We suspect that with the new admissions criteria, many students are electing to apply for fall term admission this summer. If you know of someone who falls into this category or if you yourself are considering this, we strongly recommend that you reconsider and apply now. If you have further questions about Community Service Admissions, call Rick Negus at 3813.

The deadline for submitting applications for College of Business Administration scholarships and awards is April 9. Stop in at the CBA Advising Office, Room 270 Gilbert to pick up the information sheet about the awards and application blanks.

The Thursday Night Readings series at the University presents poet Ralph Salisbury, tonight 7:30 in the EMU, room to be posted. Ralph is professor of creative writing, has published widely in literary magazines and is author of a book of poems, Ghost Grapefruit.

A new class covering the differences between commercial and alternative non-commercial radio broadcasting is being offered through LCC adult education. Visits are planned to two stations and an opportunity to participate in programming on one.

KLCC, will be provided. The class began Thursday, April 1, at 7 p.m. in room 314 of the Forum Bldg. Acceptance into the class is OK until today. So if you didn't make it to the first class, the second is fine. However, in order for the class to continue at least 12 people need to register and once again, registration continues through today. In order to register just come to class. For further information call Andy at 689-4179.

The Institute for Wholistic Childbirth is a non-profit organization newly formed in Eugene to promote and facilitate natural, non-violent birth. Tonight at the Community Center for the Performing Arts, 8th and Lincoln Streets, at 8 p.m., they will present a benefit event, featuring the New Renaissance Music of MITHRANDIR, plus a birth and life surprise. A donation of $1.50 and a turnout of 333 1/3 persons is needed for them to continue their services and events. Come dance and enjoy. For more information call 344-4039.

Food Day(s) '76 — or "Is there such a thing as a free lunch?" Two days this week focusing on good eating, nutrition, growing your own, and the politics of hunger. Thursday at noon — a food tasting party in the basement of Far West Federal on the downtown mall. Saturday from 11 a.m. to 5 — a day of films, workshops, and displays about food (and a free lunch!) at Lincoln Community School.

Problem-related Education, Ed Psy 407, TLN 8136, 3 credits P/N Thursday 7-10 p.m., 341 Gilbert, a SEARCH class. Each student, without consultation with peers, will indicate: (a) their future life goals; (b) social problems perceived by the students that they would like to see solved — indicating priorities; (c) kind of texts they would like to study in relation to (a) and (b) above — may describe nature of texts, or specify particular texts. The required texts will be selected from the information given by the students. THE COURSE IS LIMITED TO SENIORS AND GRADUATE STUDENTS ONLY. The course will be taught by Ray Peat Ph.D., 300 1/2 Jefferson, 344-8144 and Waris Ishaq, 1651 Agate, 485-1087.
