Chinese fete offers abacus to Tai Chi

Sponsored by the Chinese Student Association, Chinese Culture Week hits campus with special events scheduled daily through Saturday.

A street fair on 13th Avenue today will feature fortune telling, Chinese painting, abacus use and chop stick demonstrations. The fair will take place between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

The Chinese martial art, Tai Chi Chuan, will be the topic of a lecture and demonstration scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Dad's Room, EMU.

Thursday a variety show, to be held in the EMU underpass from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., will feature a Kung Fu demonstration and singing.

A Saturday showing of the Chinese movie, "The First Love," concludes Chinese Culture Week. Lin Ching Hsia stars in the movie to be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. in 138 Gilbert Hall. There is a $1 admission charge for the event.

Dinner and awards to honor Greek men

The Interfraternity Council will hold its annual awards banquet tonight at Sigma Chi fraternity, 1440 E. 19th Ave. Dinner begins at 6:30 p.m. Athletic Director John Caine will be the guest speaker.

The event honors outstanding fraternity men on campus. Awards in five categories of leadership, scholarship and service to community will be presented.

Lectures slated for tonight and Friday

"Transmutation of Consciousness" and "Preparation for Personal and Planetary Change" are the topics of two lectures to be presented this week by Aleuti Francesca, formerly known as Marianne Francis.

Francesca is an authority on psychic phenomena and claims to have been in contact with alien intelligences. She has written extensively on subjects ranging from pyramids to the lost island of Atlantis.

Francesca will also be offering individual workshops intended to give people direct personal knowledge of their past lifetimes. The first lecture, on personal and planetary change is scheduled for 7:30 tonight in the EMU, room to be posted, and is free. The second lecture is planned for 7:30 p.m. Friday in the EMU, room to be posted. Admission to the second lecture will be two dollars.

For further information on the workshops contact Doug Steinmetz at 686-4377.

ASUO ballots due for top posts decision

Today is the last day to vote for ASUO president and one Incidental Fee Committee (IFC) member. Sealed ballots must be delivered to Suite 4 EMU by 5 p.m. Ballots will also be available at the same location for students who did not receive them through the mail.

Mathematician to speak tonight

Al Marusa, an Arizona mathematician who claims to have developed a system of mathematics that reconciles the exactitude of the sciences with the truth of faith, will present a lecture at 7:30 tonight in 184 PLC.

Marusa's mathematics deal with duality, vibration and nature. The aim is to achieve a unity of science and religion.

Marusa, a professor at the Arizona Free University will lecture on pyramids, rational numbers, Pythagoras and mathematics in nature. The lecture is free.
