On the question of city growth, about our urban environment, the quality of that environment and ensuring that quality is maintained."

Murray, who is also presently a city council member, cited examples of what he feels are his major contributions to the city's government and added he would "continue on with the same kinds of policies and commitments" if he is elected.

Murray said the city would be "looking carefully at new industry, but we should stop short of saying it is a final answer." He believes that new industry may not help the unemployment problem at all. He believes that instead of importing new industry, local industry should be considered. He cited exporting of hand-crafted items and prefabricated housing as possibilities in this area. He also believes Eugene "could get a corner on the market" in the area of solar energy systems because he feels "nobody else is going to do it."

Citing the city's proposal to cut the use of the automobile by 30 per cent, Murray said that although he concurred with Keller's statement that the auto "is here, we do have to establish challenging goals, such as mass transit, bikeways and carpools.

THE LONELINESS OF THE LONG DISTANCE RUNNER

This brilliant British film is generally regarded as one of the most powerful films ever made on the subject of alienation. A young man is sent to Borstal, Britain's famed reformatory, because he prefers stealing to being exploited in a factory job. At Borstal he becomes a great long distance runner, but in a series of flashbacks to his earlier life we see THE LONELINESS OF THE LONG DISTANCE RUNNER fuse into the loneliness of an alienated youth forced to cope with a world he rejects.

THE DISCREET CHARM OF THE BOURGEOISIE

Directed by LUIS BUNUEL. This film is a masterpiece; a sometimes hilarious, always on target devastation of those middle-class citizens — above suspicion — whose lives are endless minuets danced in concentric circles. Nobody in cinema has ever taken on so many worthy adversaries in one movie and demolished them so effortlessly, so witheringly, and so wittily. It is Bunuel's most enjoyable and accessible work in years and got him his first and way overdue Academy Award.

JACK NICHOLSON IN

THE PASSENGER

MICHAELANGELO ANTONIONI'S suspenseful and haunting adventure is the portrait of a drained journalist whose deliverance is an identity exchange with a dead man. Accompanied by an equally alienated girl, he passively embarks on a treacherous journey through Africa, Germany, England and Spain. NICHOLSON'S performance is so gripping that his vibrant presence is felt even in his virtual absence in the spectacular concluding moments of the film. Also starring MARIA SCHNEIDER.
