MINORITY PLAN TO BE AIRED

The special faculty committee on minority programs at UO will make a formal presentation of its recommendations tonight. Everyone concerned about educational opportunities for Asian Americans, Blacks, Hispanic Americans, and Native Americans should attend.
The committee will not prepare a final version of its report until representatives of the affected groups have had a chance to make their comments. The ASUO Executive cannot stress enough the importance of these recommendations and their impact on the future of minority programs at UO. We strongly urge all interested parties to attend.

From Associated Press reports

Sniper surrenders atop motel

PORTLAND — Waving his coat above his head, a sniper surrendered atop a five-story Holiday Inn Monday about two hours after he began shooting into morning rush-hour traffic.

A policeman was hit by one of the more than 30 shots fired by the sniper. He was reported hospitalized in good condition.

The accused sniper was identified by police as Daniel Harmon Jones, 20, of Independence, Calif. Motel officials said he had taken a fifth-floor room Nov. 18, and indicated he planned to leave Monday.

Authorities said he was charged with attempted murder and held on $100,000 bail.

Steel producers hike prices

PITTSBURGH — Three major steel producers, including the nation's largest, closed ranks with their competitors Monday by announcing a six per cent hike on steel used in consumer products.

U.S. Steel, the nation's largest producer, Bethlehem Steel Corp., and Republic Steel Corp. joined six other firms which earlier announced price increases on flat-rolled products. The hikes are effective Dec. 1.

Tower of Power: The Irresistible Force.

TOWER OF POWER

Ain't Nothin' Stoppin' Us Now

Back in 1967, they were one of the original Bay Area fountain-head bands; they've lasted and they've grown and they've come through to vast new audiences, literally millions of albums sold, and a sound that cuts across all categories. (Tower's horn section, for instance, has a well-earned rep as the premier unit around; sessions with Elton John, Rufus and Rod Stewart prove it.)

Tower of Power: They're just beginning an important national tour with a new lead singer, Edward McGee, a new label, Columbia, and a new album called "Ain't Nothin' Stoppin' Us Now." (Which happens to include Tower's equally unstoppable new hit, "You Ought To Be Havin' Fun.")
"Ain't Nothin' Stoppin' Us Now." Tower of Power, on Columbia Records and Tapes.

Appearing at the Lane County Fairgrounds Wednesday, Dec. 18 p.m.
