

Minister talks on Namibia

Paul Isaak, a black Lutheran minister from Namibia (formerly Southwest Africa) will present "Problems of Namibia Today" at 8 p.m. at the United Lutheran Church, 22nd Avenue and Washington Street.

Before coming to the United States, Isaak ministered to a congregation of 2,500 people as pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Bethanien, a town in the southern part of Namibia.

Isaak is doing graduate work at Pacific Theological Seminary in Berkeley, Calif.

Isaak's talk is sponsored by the Pacific Northwest Synod of the Lutheran Church in America and Clergy and Laity Concerned. (CALC).

CALC has chosen to work toward more public understanding of the situation in southern Africa and United States corporate and government involvement there. According to Marion Barnes of the CALC Peace Office, "U.S. Political Power and Repression" is one of CALC's program priorities.

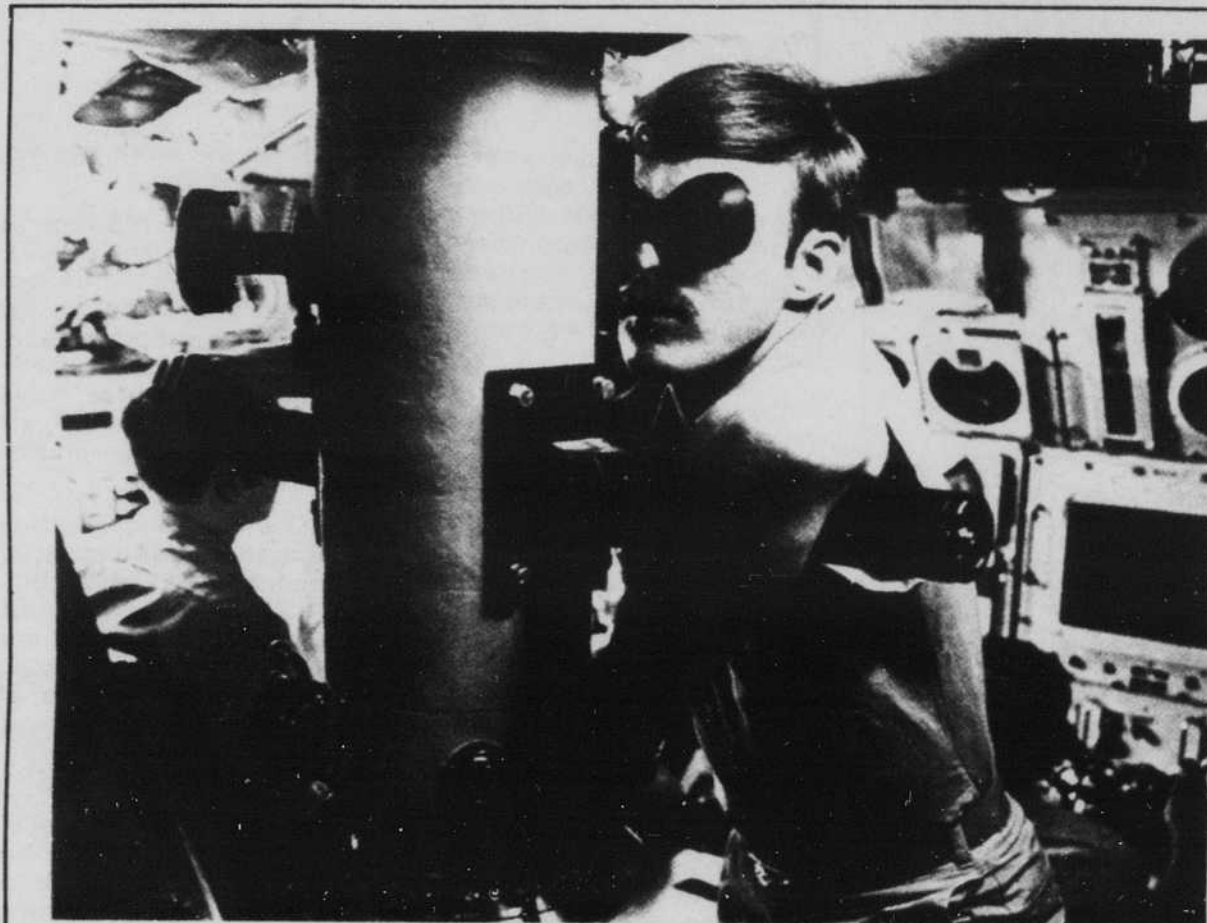

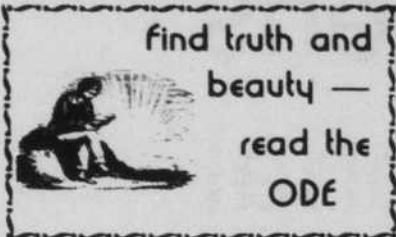

The organization has been protesting the sale of a South African gold coin, the Kruggerand, in Eugene. CALC plans to continue a focus on southern Africa with other speakers and activities in the coming months.

Maximum late fee $25

For better or worse, students have more days in which to pay their fees than Monday's story indicated. According to D.L. Thomas of the business office late fines for this term's tuition payments began Monday and will continue to accumulate at the rate of $1 per day up to a maximum fine of $25.

NAVY NUCLEAR PROPULSION. THE FASTEST WAY UP IN NUCLEAR ENGINEERING.

If you want to get into nuclear engineering, start by getting into the Nuclear Navy.

The Navy operates more than half the reactors in America. So our nuclear training is the most comprehensive you can get. You start by earning your commission as a Navy Officer. Then we give you a year of advanced nuclear technology, training that would cost you thousands if you could get it in graduate school. During your career, you'll get practical, hands-on experience with our nuclear powered fleet. Maybe you'll work on a nuclear submarine, maybe a nuclear cruiser. But wherever you work, you'll really get to prove your worth—as a young Nuclear Propulsion Officer entrusted with the most advanced technical equipment known to man.

Kids' art classes offered

Art classes for elementary age students are being offered at the University again this winter.

The University's art education department is sponsoring two classes, each consisting of six weekly sessions, one Monday and the other Wednesday. Class time is from 4 to 4:50 p.m.

Reservations can be made through Wednesday. Classes begin Jan. 31 and Feb. 2.

Students will receive individual instruction using a variety of materials. Teachers will be undergraduate students with supervision and guidance provided by a certified art teacher.

The total cost for each child enrolled is $5.

Reservations and further information may be obtained by calling the art education department office Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. The office is closed from noon to 1 p.m. The phone number is 686-3639.

MISCELLANEOUS

The Counseling Center will offer a Personal Effectiveness Training Workshop beginning Tuesday and continuing to the end of the term, Tuesdays from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Leader: Andy Thompson, Counseling Psychologist. For information, contact the Counseling Center, 686-3227. Enrollment is limited to 10 participants.

A SEARCH non-credit workshop in Geomancy begins at 12:30 p.m. today in the Conference Room of Suite 1, EMU. The class will comprise a synthesis of geodesy — the landscape geometry — and Divination: the principles, forms and concepts of the planetary energy network — the megalithic sites (pyramids) and ancient astronomical observatories (stone circles). A subjective awareness will be stressed in locating and perceiving the nature of anomalies, vortices, key lines and centers. Class will meet in the Conference Room at 12:30 each Friday, then depart for field excursions after a brief orientation.

Copies of the initial issue of the PSI CENTER JOURNAL will be available today from the PSI Center, located in Suite 1 of the EMU.

The Wilderness Experience is a SEARCH class still open which will assemble a multi-media video tape presentation on Oregon wilderness areas. Any talent, hobby or equipment interested students might possess or have access to in the areas of writing, art, photography, cinematography, video tape, recording or music are welcome. For more information, call Win Coleman at 726-8007 or Barry Hood, 344-2112.

Student Program Management and Public Relations are two SEARCH courses open to interested students in the management or publicity end of a campus or community program. Three credits are available for each for attending an hour-and-one-half weekly class session. For more information, call Michael Connelly, at 686-3724 (management) or Barry Hood at 344-2112 or 686-4377 (publicity).

University Worship, a weekly ecumenical folk-rock worship service, will be held Sunday at 11 a.m. at the Wesley Center, 1236 Kincaid (north of the Bookstore). Everyone is welcome.

The United Lodge of Theosophists will meet for a study class Sundays from 8 to 9:15 p.m. and Wednesdays, 5 to 6:30 p.m. at 862 Van Buren St. Interested persons are invited to attend.
