

Women's Day meeting tonight

International Women's Day will be celebrated in Eugene on Tuesday, March 8, with a brown bag lunch, folk singing, speakers and displays on the downtown mall.

A pot luck party is also scheduled for that night to help demonstrate the importance of International Women's Day and to unify the women's community and share information, according to Michelle Meyers, one of the event coordinators.

Any woman interested in contributing to the event may meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the Grower's Market, 454 Willamette St., or Tuesday, March 1, at the same location at 5:30 p.m. For more information, call Meyers at 484-2582.

Frat welcomes new members

Recently installed into the Kappa Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, a professional business fraternity at the University, were Paul Skans, a finance senior, and Stuart Monroe, an accounting freshman. Gerald LaCava, Ph.D., assistant professor of quantitative methods, was also installed in the special ceremony as chapter adviser. Membership in Alpha Kappa Psi is open to all interested persons whose major field of study is business and/or economics.

Survival Center plans car pool

The Survival Center has scheduled a car pool to go to land-use planning hearings at the Legislature Wednesday evening.

Amendments to Senate Bill 100, Oregon's land use regulations, will be considered by the Senate Environment and Energy Committee. According to the Survival Center, anyone interested in attending the hearing may come to the Survival Center in Suite 1 EMU or call ext. 4356.

The hearing will be in Room A of the State Capitol Building at 7 p.m. and the Survival Center car pool will leave Eugene at 5:30 p.m. A brief discussion of land use issues will be held in the Survival Center at 3:30 p.m.

Seminar looks at loneliness

A public seminar on the topic "What About Loneliness" is scheduled for tonight from 7 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. at the Covenant Presbyterian Church on 39th Avenue and Hilyard Street.

Cost of the seminar, which is sponsored by Family Counseling Services, is $3. The seminar will discuss the positive aspects of being alone and examine habitual responses to the experience of aloneness. The purpose of the workshop is to gain a clearer understanding of this nearly universal human experience, according to seminar sponsors.

Accountants schedule meal

The Eugene-Springfield Chapter of the National Association of Accountants is holding its February meeting tonight at the Sutherlin Knolls Golf Club in Sutherlin. (Take Sutherlin exit from I-5, go west of freeway.) The public is welcome to attend.

Dinner will begin at 7 p.m. and the evening's program will start at 8 p.m. Featured speaker will be Bruce Micheli, whose topic is "Alpha Awareness — A Tool for the Businessman."

For dinner and transportation reservations call Dennis Lemon at 686-2000.

Scottish group meets tonight

The Scottish Society, sponsored by the Eugene Parks and Recreation Department, is beginning their second year of meetings and extends an invitation to all people with an interest in Scottish traditions, folklore, dances and games to come to the monthly gatherings.

Meetings are held at Kaufman Center, 996 Jefferson St. Tonight's meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. For more information about the Scottish Society phone Vivienne Friendly at 687-5353.

KUGN works fund-raising ride

Radio station KUGN, Eugene, will operate a ferris wheel at the Oakway Mall this week to raise money for the Oregon Special Olympics.

The ferris wheel will be operated from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily, and all ticket sales will be donated to the Special Olympics. Tickets will be priced at 50 cents for general admission; 25 cents for youngsters under age of six and for senior citizens over 65.

All proceeds from the benefit will be used to help sponsor two state Special Olympics competitions at the University this spring. On March 11 and 12, the University will host the Special Olympics state basketball and run, dribble and shoot competition.

Special Olympics is an international program of athletic competition and training for the mentally retarded.

Psychodrama workshop set

Reservations can still be made to attend Adaline Starr's psychodrama workshop, March 5 and 6, on campus.

Starr is an instructor at Northwestern Medical School in Chicago and a staff member of the Chicago Alfred Adler Institute. She has consulted at numerous hospitals and clinics and has offered theory and methods of psychodrama at various workshops and conferences.

For the two-day workshop, Starr has selected the theme "Resolving Interpersonal Conflict Through Psychodrama; The Theory and the Method."

A descriptive brochure and workshop schedule are available through DeBusk Memorial Center, (686-3418), Division of Developmental Studies and Services, College of Education, University of Oregon, Eugene 97403. Pre-registration is a must since the nature of the workshop requires considerable organization and space is limited.

Study overseas during summer

Four British universities are accepting applications from United States students for the 1977 summer session. The deadline for application is March 1.

The four schools (University of London, University of Oxford, University of Edinburgh, and University of Birmingham at Stratford-upon-Avon) offer courses in British theater, literature and history, and Scottish literature and history.

The University of Oslo International Summer School offers courses focusing on various aspects of Norwegian culture including fine arts, language, education, physical education, economics and government.

Classes are taught in English and credit is available. The term runs from June 25 to August 5, 1977. The deadline for application is April 1 (March 15 for scholarships).

For more information, contact the International Student Services Office at 172 Oregon Hall.

Mortar Board seeks seniors

Mortar Board, the national senior honor society, is in the process of selecting new members.

Any University student who will be a senior fall term, 1977, has between 105 and 135 credits at present, has a 3.2 or better cumulative grade point average and is active on campus and in the community may be eligible for membership in Mortar Board. Service, leadership and scholarship are the basis for selection.

All University department heads, faculty and campus organizations are asked to recommend students for membership. For more information or for copies of recommendation forms, contact Vicky Smith, 343-6914, Judy Bogen, 686-3211, or Sally Sederstrom, 344-4542. Completed forms may be returned to Mortar Board c/o Student Services, Oregon Hall, before March 11.

Boaters left high and dry

Because of dry weather, boaters who want to reserve a moorage slip in one of Lane County's parks will have to wait until after March 1.

Previous deadlines for making reservations for boatslips have been cancelled until the Army Corps of Engineers determines what the water levels will be at Orchard Point, Richardson Park and Baker Bay.

The Lane County Parks Division said the only moorage they are certain will be available is at Lowell Park on Dexter Lake. Applications for the Lowell Park facility will be open to those who did not have a slip there last year — beginning March 7.

Pioneer 10 film on screen today

Two exhibits and a film highlight the fair being offered this month by the Southwest Oregon Museum of Science and Industry.

The museum will be exhibiting the Amacker Collection of Minerals in Crystal Form through March 15.

The museum is also displaying Bernadette II, a micro-computer on loan from the Real Oregon Computer Company.

"Jupiter Odyssey," a film telling the story of Pioneer 10's long journey to Jupiter will be shown at 4 p.m. today through Feb. 26.

Admission to the museum, located at 27 E. Fifth Ave., is 75 cents for adults, 50 cents for students 6 through 17, and 25 cents for persons over 65 or under 6.
