

Oregon slide show slated

A slide show with stereophonic sound titled "Oregon Spectacular" will be shown at 8 p.m. Saturday in the River Road Park and Recreation Building, 1400 Lake Drive, as a benefit for the Sharon Getty World Games for the Deaf Fund.

Producer of the presentation is Don Hunter, former head of the University's Audiovisual Media Center and currently a staff member of University Relations.

Sharon Getty is one of 10 girls representing the United States in the World Games for the Deaf competition, in Bucharest, Romania, on July 16 through 26. These Games are the Olympics for the deaf. The athletes are responsible for raising the necessary $2,500 each for the trip. For more information, contact Jackie Getty, 688-6344.

Chess tourney scheduled

The Eugene Winter open chess tournament has been scheduled for this Saturday and Sunday, according to the Eugene Chess Club.

The tournament is open to any member of the Northwest Chess Federation and includes $275 in prize money. The tournament will be held in the Community Room of the Far West Federal building at 96 E. Broadway Street on the downtown mall. Final registration time is Saturday from 8:30 to 9:15 a.m.

For further information and advance entry registration, contact Dave Cohen at 344 East 14th Ave., Eugene.

KWAX to present operas

Giacomo Puccini's three one-act operas, collectively known as "Il Trittico," will be broadcast over the Texaco-Metropolitan Opera Radio Network Saturday at 11 a.m. The broadcast will be aired locally on KWAX-FM, 91.1, the University's public radio station.

The three operas present a wide variety of human emotions and of music. Singing principal roles will be Hildegard Behrens, Jean Kraft, Harry Theyard, Teresa Zylis-Gara, Fedora Barbieri, Josella Ligi, Cornell MacNeil and Neil Shicoff. James Levine will conduct all three operas.

Spiritualist offers seminar

Jalelah Fraley, spiritual guide of the Los Angeles Sufi community, will offer guidance to couples, families, parents and friends in a seminar on realizing the ideal in human relationships Saturday from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Wesley Center, 1236 Kincaid St.

The seminar is sponsored by the Smiling Forehead Sufi Center in Eugene and a $4 donation is asked from seminar participants. For more information call 344-7772 or 345-9848.

briefs

LECTURES

Michael Kwartler, a visiting University architecture professor, will speak on "New York City — A Super 8 Experience," at 4:30 p.m. today in Room 177, Lawrence. Kwartler is on leave from his job as associate director of the New York City Planning Department, Division of Land Planning and Environmental Management. His lecture is part of the architecture and allied arts faculty series.

MISCELLANEOUS

University Worship, a weekly ecumenical folk-rock worship service, will be held at 11 a.m. Sunday at the Wesley Center, 1236 Kincaid St. (north of the Bookstore). Everyone is welcome.

All Graduate Teaching Fellows are invited to the GTF Federation's open house from noon to 6 p.m. today at 868 E. 13th Ave. (above the Red Rooster Barber Shop). GTF representatives will be there with information about upcoming collective bargaining referenda.

The Incidental Fee Committee will have budget hearings at 6:30 p.m. today with the Gay People's Alliance, Women in Science and Associated Library Students. Room to be announced.

The University's Counseling Center is forming a single parents' group for spring term. The nature of the group will be determined by the needs of the participants. Group size is limited to 10 and meeting time will be 10:30 a.m. to noon Thursdays or 2 to 3:30 p.m. Fridays. For more information, contact the center, x3227. This is not a research project.

Ferris wheel to raise money for Olympics

Operation of the KUGN ferris wheel at the Oakway Mall to raise money for the Oregon Special Olympics will end today.

The ferris wheel will operate from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. and proceeds from all tickets sales will be donated to the Special Olympics, an international program of athletic competition and training for the mentally retarded.

Poems, photos on tap Sunday

"Hundred Flowers," a new local journal of revolutionary art and politics, is presenting a poetry reading and photograph exhibit on Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Grower's Market, Fourth Avenue and Willamette Street.

Sunday marked the 20th anniversary of the writing of Mao Tse Tung's essay proclaiming "Let a Hundred Flowers Bloom."

People sought to share culture

People foreign to the United States are asked to volunteer time to share some of their culture with first through sixth grade children at the Eugene Parks and Recreation Department's Saturday Fun Club.

Examples of native country dress, art, stories, crafts, songs or dances are needed to help American children understand other cultures. Volunteers may phone Vivienne Friendly at 687-5353.

Hatfield guest at GOP dinner

Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., will be the featured guest at a no host dinner at the Eugene Hotel today sponsored by the Lane County Republican Central Committee.

A private reception begins at 6 p.m. in Room 201 of the hotel and dinner is scheduled for 7 p.m. in the King Cole Room. Cost of the reception is $25; dinner is $10. Call 484-1872 for reservations.

Center offers free discussion

The Eugene Center for Personal Growth will offer a free weekly discussion group on "Predictable Crises of Adult Life" Sundays from 7 to 9 p.m. beginning this Sunday.

Advanced registration is required. The group will discuss Gail Sheeny's book "Passages" and meetings will be held at 1997 Garden Way in Eugene. For more information or to register for the discussion group call 686-0150.

Urban designer to speak

The co-author of "Housing Quality Zoning," a recent omnibus amendment to New York City's zoning resolution, will discuss the city's urban design in a talk at the University today.

Michael Kwartler, a visiting University architecture professor on leave from his job as associate director of the New York City Planning Department Division of Land Planning and Environmental Management, will deliver a lecture entitled "New York City — A Super 8 Experience" at 4:30 p.m. in 177 Lawrence.

The talk is being sponsored through a faculty lecture series and is open free to the public.

Sunday concerts on tap

The University's Concert Band will present its free winter recital Sunday at 4 p.m. in the University's Beall Concert Hall.

Included in the program will be works by composers Francois Joseph Gossec, Vittorio Giannini, William Schuman and Charles Ives.

The group of 70 instrumentalists is under the direction of Gerald Poe. Because the ensemble is an all campus group, more than half of its members are not music majors.

The University Singers and the University Chorale will present a free joint concert Sunday at 8 p.m. in Central Presbyterian Church, 1475 Ferry St.

The Singers is a 40-voice mixed choir directed by Paul Westlund. The University Chorale, a 75-voice mixed group directed by Royce Saltzman, will perform works by George Handel and Leonard Bernstein.

Leadership seminar set

A leadership training seminar for women is scheduled for Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. in the EMU, room to be posted.

The seminar is sponsored by Columbia Region of the International Toastmistress Clubs and will include two sessions. The first session will feature a presentation on "Strategy for Success: Communications," by Frances Briscoe, International Toastmistress president.

The afternoon session will feature Judge Helen Frye explaining women's constitutional rights and an address by Susan Gilmore, psychologist and University education professor, on "Dimensions of Personal Power."

Cost of the workshop is $12 including lunch. Registration is limited to the first 250 persons and no refunds will be given after March 1. For additional information, phone 686-9493 in Eugene or 654-2991 in Portland.

Coin club hosting show

The Mid-Valley Coin Club will host their Tenth Annual Coin Show this Saturday and Sunday at the Elks Lodge in Albany.

Practical trophies for competitive exhibits will be awarded at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and non-competitive exhibits of various types will also be shown. Anyone is eligible to place displays for judging.

According to Larry Forslund of the Mid-Valley Coin Club, several well-known coin dealers will be present to buy, sell and appraise coins. The series of wooden nickels started ten years ago will continue again this year. The show is open to the public free of charge and door prizes will be awarded every hour.

For further information, contact Forslund at 2321 N.W. Hazel Ave., Corvallis, 97330, telephone 753-2800.

Science series to begin

"Kaleidoscope: Exploring Science and Things" will be a featured program at the Southwest Oregon Museum of Science and Industry (SWOMSI) each Saturday morning at 10.

As part of a continuing Moby Dick Parade, Jacques Costeau's film "Migration of the California Gray Whale" will be shown.

Kaleidoscope will run through March with a solar energy workshop on March 5. On March 12, Walter Youngquist will present an illustrated lecture on "Energy — Resources for the Future."

SWOMSI is located at Fifth Avenue and Willamette Street and admission is 75 cents for adults, 50 cents for students and 25 cents for persons over 65 or under 6 years of age. Admission includes exhibits, the planetarium show and kaleidoscope activities.

University Worship

A weekly Ecumenical Folk-Rock Worship Celebration

Sponsored by the Campus Christian Ministry

Sundays, at 11 am
at The Wesley Center
1236 Kincaid Eugene

Everyone is Welcome

Oregon Daily Emerald

The Oregon Daily Emerald is published Monday through Friday except during exam weeks and vacations, by the Oregon Daily Emerald Publishing Co., Inc., at the University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore. 97403.

The Oregon Daily Emerald operates independently of the University with offices on the third floor of the Erb Memorial Union.

The Oregon Daily Emerald is a member of Associated Press and College Press Service.

News and Editorial
Display Advertising and Business
Classified Advertising
Production

686-5511
686-3712
686-4343
686-4381

Editor
Managing Editor
Asst. Managing Editor
News Editor
Graphics Editor
Asst. Graphics Editor
Editorial Page Editor
Sports Editor

Greg Wasson
Wally Benson
Martha Bliss
Lora Cuykendall
Perry Gaskill
Steve Sandstrom
Jackman Wilson
Jeff Nielson

Asst. Sports Editor
Entertainment Editors

Wire Editor

Associate Editors:
Department and Schools
Features
Local Politics
State Politics
Community
State System and Student Services
ASUO
Environment

Night Editor

Production Manager
Advertising Manager
Classified Advertising
Accountant

John Henderson
Bob Webb
Peter Duryea
Paul Waldschmidt

Tom Wolfe
Nick Gallo
Tom Jackson
Mike McLain
Heather McClenaghan
Lori Peterson
Brenda Tabor
E.G. White-Swift

Becky Young

Kate Seigal
Carl Bryant
Darlene Gore
Ted Johnston