ANNOUNCEMENT: Wholesale Prices Are Now Being Offered at University of Oregon's Campus By...

TOUCHE: the exclusive line of contemporary women's fashions. Featuring denims & leathers... from the casual gaucho to the timeless classic trench. Offering excellence in quality & believability in price. This program has been created by students, and more importantly, for students, but in order to maintain prices at the wholesale level, it is essential that we have your cooperation and understanding. Therefore, our main goal is to present you with the finished garment, not the huge advertising campaigns or other promotions inherent in normal retail overhead. The elimination of this overhead allows us to market our product to you at the wholesale level.

Orders may be placed through the following campus reps Anne Revell at 485-9677 and Kathy Coe at 686-4794.

Please contact these reps for individual or group showings.
 A sampling of pre-washed denim prices:
 pants-$8.25; safari jacket-$15.00; gauchos-$9.00; vest-$6.00; bikini-$6.00.

Whales to receive hearing

The state Legislature's Committee on Trade and Economic Development will hold a hearing and work session on SB 345 Tuesday at 8 a.m. in Hearing Room A.

SB 345 declares that whales are overexploited and in danger of extinction and that protective regulations are inadequate. The bill also prohibits state or local governments from purchasing goods produced in countries where whale hunting is permitted for profit.

For more information, contact the Survival Center or the ASUO Legislative Resource Center. The Resource Center has the names, addresses and phone numbers of the committee members as well as copies of the bill.

Eugene Hotel tonight hosts booze, bands

Eugene's Mithrandir and Corvallis' Magpie will perform in concert tonight at the Eugene Hotel. The music starts at 9:15 p.m. Hard liquor will be served before the performance.

Mithrandir is calling this performance "The Road Show" because they are using it as a launching point for a summer tour of Oregon and the Northwest. This will also be Magpie's last performance in Eugene for a while.

Tickets for the concert, which takes place in the King Cole Room, are $2.50. They are available at Everybody's Records, the Sun Shop, New Frontier Market and at the door. There will be no price hike on the day of the performance.

Fish experts to demonstrate angling advice

On Saturday the Southwest Oregon Museum of Science and Industry (SWOMSI) will have "Something Fishy" going on in the west wing of the museum.

Fisheries biologist Robert Anderson will present slides and a talk about the fish of this area. He will bring live specimens as well as photographs and will explain where fish are found and what they do. He will answer your questions about the life history of fish, how to find them and how to catch them.

The half-hour "Kaleidoscope" presentation will begin at 10 a.m. and is especially suited for those 12 years of age and older.

SWOMSI, a non-profit cultural and educational organization, is located at Fifth Avenue and Wilamette Street in Eugene. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and senior citizens and includes all exhibits and planetarium shows. SWOMSI members are admitted free.

Kite builders fly wares

The Eugene Parks and Recreation Department is offering kite building and flying workshops Thursday and Friday for both children and adults. The workshops are followed by a kite fly-in from noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, June 5, at Amazon Field.

Contests for the largest and smallest kites, the fastest launch, the longest tail and other categories will be held as well as kite fighting.

The kite building workshops will be held at the Atrium, 99 West 10th Ave., from 7 to 9 p.m. today, at the Westmoreland Community Center, 1545 West 22nd Ave. from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday and at the Sheldon Community Center, 2445 Willakenzie Road, from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday.

Kite flying workshops will be held from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Sundays May 22 and May 29 at Amazon Field in Amazon Park.

Pre-registration and a 50-cent materials charge are required for the indoor workshops. Phone Vivienne Friendly at 687-5353 for information.

Dancing set

The Asian American Student Union and the Eugene Filipino American Community are sponsoring an evening featuring Cabataan folk dancing Friday, May 13, from 8 to 10 p.m. at the Condon Elementary School, 1787 Agate St. Admission is $1.

Talk to review Socrates

Homer Thompson of the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton will present a slide lecture on "The Philosopher in the Market Place: Socrates in the Athenian Agora" Monday at 8 p.m. in 177 Lawrence.

the Agora in order to show the philosopher in a human light.

Committee to seek wilderness testimony

The House sub-committee on public lands will hold a hearing at Harris Hall from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. Committee members Chairer Tino Roncalio and Rep. Jim Weaver, will hear testimony on the Endangered American Wilderness Act. A slide presentation will show roadless areas in the bill and an outside P.A. system will broadcast the proceedings. For more information, call 686-4356.

The lecture is sponsored by the assembly and the University lectures committee and history department. Thompson, who is generally recognized as the dean of American archaeologists, directed the American excavation of the Athenian market place, the Agora, for over twenty years.

His talk will relate Socrates to
