

...et al Sewing leaders honored

Two Oregonians who have literally revolutionized American fashion in home sewing will be installed as honorary members of Beta Gamma Sigma, national honorary business society at the University, during the society's annual installation and scholarship banquet tonight.

Herb and Ann Person, founders of the nationwide "Stretch and Sew," home fashion corporation, which is headquartered in Eugene, will be among new members installed at the society's banquet at Bev's Steak House.

Ann Person will deliver the banquet's keynote address. The program also will include the presentation of scholarships to outstanding students in the College of Business Administration.

Callers needed for elderly

Volunteers are urgently needed to provide telephone contact for home-bound senior citizens through two Lane County Senior Service programs.

One program, Teleassurance, provides daily telephone contact to isolated seniors living in the Eugene-Springfield area. Two volunteers are needed to make weekend calls and several more for weekday contact.

The other program, Telecheck, needs volunteers to call seniors on a weekly or monthly basis. Each volunteer calls 10 to 15 seniors. Volunteers can make these calls from the Teleassurance office at 673 W. 10th Ave. or from their own homes.

If you can help please call Joyce Watson, Teleassurance coordinator, at 686-2608, or Claire Colombe, Springfield Senior Services aide, at 726-0555.

Summer schedule ready

Time schedules of classes for summer term are available now at the registrar's office in Oregon Hall, according to Clarence Schminke, summer session director.

Regular summer session courses begin June 21, and run through August 12. Registration will be held June 20, in McArthur Court.

Beard earns fellowship

Stephen Beard, a University sociology major, has been awarded a fellowship by the Southern Regional Training Program in Public Administration. The fellowship is valued at $4,600, including a stipend of $3,300 plus tuition and fees.

Beard is among seven who were chosen for training in public administration at the universities of Alabama, Kentucky and Tennessee.

County auction begins June 4

Cars, trucks, bicycles, radios and cameras are a few of the used or unclaimed items going on the block during Lane County's annual auction on June 4, at the Fairgrounds in Eugene.

Auctioneer Eldon Shelley will begin the bidding at 10 a.m. in Expo Hall. The auction will end when everything is sold.

Other items include a D9 Caterpillar crawler, compactors, 55-foot mobile home, car engines and office equipment. Everything will be on display at the Fairgrounds except the mobile home starting at 8 a.m.

The auction is open to the public. Payment should be in cash, certified check or a check on local banks only. For more information, call Lane County's Purchasing Agent Willard Stradley at 687-4135.

Mother's Club slates luncheon

The University Mother's Club will hold a potluck-salad luncheon Friday at 11:30 a.m. in Gerlinger Hall.

Vanda Romney will talk on "Ancestral Sleuthing" and officers for next year will be introduced. A "silent" auction is also scheduled with proceeds going to the University women's athletic program.

Mothers of past or present students who wish to attend may contact Ann Dufay, at 345-1751 or Maxine Pilon, at 345-3090.

High schoolers get job hunt aid

A job hunter's workshop will be offered by the Westmoreland Community Center, 1545 West 22nd Ave., from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday.

The workshop will be conducted on a drop-in basis for junior and senior high school persons. For more information, call Anita or Vicki at the Westmoreland HEY program 687-5361.

Center seeks volunteers

Volunteers are needed in our community to provide many services. Listed below are just a few of the volunteer jobs now open. This list is compiled by the Voluntary Action Center (VAC), 673 West 10th Ave. in Eugene.

•Do you need something athletic to do with your spare time this summer? A local day camp, beginning June 27, needs junior counselors.

•Did you ever dream of being driven around by a chauffeur? Now you can give that dream to someone else by driving them home from a weekly meeting.

•You can show off your good taste by accepting this position. Play records and then discuss them with your fellow listeners.

•A local recycling agency needs a friendly person to collect materials for recycling.

•Are you intrigued by the "Big Screen"? Run video tape and recorder at a training session for a social service agency.

•Show your back-to-nature skills by helping a carpenter remodel. Women applicants are strongly encouraged.

•Do you have time to share helping people who want to help someone else? Assist and supervise a group that does craft projects for severely handicapped people.

•Summer teen volunteers needed. If you're a teenager with some spare time this summer, why not volunteer to work a few hours a week helping others. Many jobs, from helping seniors to counseling kids are available.

For more information on these and other volunteer experiences, Eugene area residents can call 342-4451. VAC's office hours are from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Springfield residents can call the Springfield Volunteer Center at 747-5399.

'Friends' call meeting

Lane County residents are invited to an organizational meeting of a new group called the Friends of the Lane County Library.

The initial meeting will be held in the Eugene City Council Chambers at Eighth Avenue and Pearl Street Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. County librarian Scott Meisner says the group is being formed to share ideas on improving and developing library service to the county.

Although the organizational meeting is in Eugene, Meisner indicated that subsequent meetings could be held in various areas of the county, at the discretion of the group. Anyone interested in joining the Friends of the Lane County Library are asked to attend the meeting.

For more information, call Scott Meisner at 687-4449.

River guide available

The topographical and scenic beauty of the 34-mile long wild river stretch of the Rogue River is described in a new booklet now available from the University's Museum of Natural History.

The booklet is William Purdon's "Guide to the Geology and Lore of the Wild Reach of the Rogue River, Oregon."

"The booklet describes in detail the variety of scenic features along the Rogue River between Grave Creek and Foster Bar, which is the part of the river's course that is designated as a wild river," says museum director L.R. Kittleman.

"The guide deals mainly with geologic features and scenery along the river, but it also includes information on geography, climate and wildlife of the Rogue basin. It calls attention to places of historic interest along the wild reach, particularly places relating to the gold mining in the late 1800s."

Contained in the 67-page booklet is a mile-by-mile exploratory log of the 34-mile wild river stretch, 31 black-and-white and four color photographs and seven maps. Also included is a list of readings and glossary of geologic terms.

Copies of the new booklet, designated as Bulletin No. 22, are now available from the Museum of Natural History, University of Oregon, Eugene, 97403. Cost is $3.25 per copy. A 50-cent postage charge is required for mail orders.

briefs

LECTURES

Robyn Dawes, University psychology professor, will speak on "The Robust Beauty of Improper Linear Models in Decision Making" at 3:30 p.m. today in Room 156, Straub. This lecture is a psychology department proseminar.

MEETINGS

There will be an organizational meeting for students interested in removing ROTC from campus at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday in the EMU, room to be posted.

MISCELLANEOUS

Dominic LaRusso will speak on "Self-Awareness and Decision Making" at today's meeting of Phi Chi Theta, a professional fraternity for students in business and economics. The meeting is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. in Room 107, Gilbert. Interested students are invited to attend.

The ad hoc committee on the librarianship school will obtain testimony from the general public at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the EMU, room to be posted.

"Forbidden City," a film about the national artifacts and treasures of China's past, will be shown at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday in Studio B of the Instructional Media Center in the library. Interested persons are invited to attend.

Representatives of various alcohol treatment facilities will discuss where alcoholics or friends of alcoholics can find treatment and counseling in the county at 7:30 tonight at the Community Alcohol Education program. The program is presented every Tuesday night in the social rooms of the First Christian Church, 12th Avenue and Oak Street. The program is designed for the general public and is coordinated by the Lane County Council on Alcoholism. Interested persons are invited to attend.

IT WOULD BE A DREADFUL
ERROR...

TO MISS THOSE SUMMER
FREEDOM FARES!

EUGENE TRAVEL

831 E. 13th

687-2823

All the music
you want...

without the noise.

Stereo 3
KSND FM RADIO

Eugene/Springfield

Oregon Daily Emerald

The Oregon Daily Emerald is published Monday through Friday except during exam weeks and vacations, by the Oregon Daily Emerald Publishing Co., Inc., at the University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore. 97403. The Oregon Daily Emerald operates independently of the University with offices on the third floor of the Erb Memorial Union. The Oregon Daily Emerald is a member of Associated Press and College Press Service. Emerald subscriptions are $7 per term and $20 per year.

News and Editorial 686-5511
Display Advertising and Business 686-3712
Classified Advertising 686-4343
Production 686-4381

Editor
Managing Editor
Asst. Managing Editor
News Editor
Graphics Editor
Asst. Graphics Editor
Editorial Page Editor

Greg Wasson
Tom Wolfe
Martha Bliss
Lora Cuykendall
Perry Gaskill
Steve Sandstrom
Jackman Wilson

Sports Editor
Asst. Sports Editor
Entertainment Editors

Wire Editor
Associate Editors:
Department and Schools
Features
Local Politics
State Politics

Community
State System and Student Services
ASUO
Environment

Night Editor
Production Manager
Advertising Manager
Accountant

Marv Fjordbeck
Kim Spir
Peter Duryea
Bob Webb
Paul Waldschmidt

Sean Meyers
Nick Gallo
Becky Young
Mary Beth Bowen
Tom Jackson
Heather McClenaghan
Lori Peterson
Kevin Hackett
E.G. White-Swift
Chris Norman

Kate Seigal
Carl Bryant
Ted Johnston