Acting registrar selected

The University has named Wanda Johnson as its acting registrar for the 1977-78 school year.

Provost Paul Olum said Johnson will serve as the University's acting registrar for a one year period, beginning Friday. A search for a permanent registrar is expected to begin by the start of fall term.

Johnson has been a member of the University Administrative staff since 1971, when she was named an assistant registrar. In January, she was promoted to associate registrar.

She replaces Les Turner, who resigned in May to return to the East Coast.

As acting registrar, Johnson will earn a salary at $24,500 per year.

Pablo Cruise at fairgrounds

Cory Lerios (a veteran of It's a Beautiful Day), Bud Cockrell, Dave Jenkins and Steve Price (former members of Stone-ground) got together three years ago and developed a musical identity that relies on strong melodies, affirmative lyrics and sophisticated musical interaction. Now called Pablo Cruise, they will perform tonight at the Lane County Fairgrounds Auditorium. Tickets are $6.

Show at gallery

Open Gallery will present photographic work by Robert Miller from July 10 through August 5. A reception at the gallery, 775 E. 25th, from 2 to 5 p.m. kicks off the presentation. Regular gallery hours are Tuesday-Friday from 1 to 6 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. For further information call 345-4857 or 484-0706.

Friday last day to register, pay

Friday is the last day to register and pay fees for regular session (8 and 11 week) summer session courses. Registration after the published deadline may be made only after successful petition to the Academic Requirements Committee.

Children's season begins

Carnival Theater opens its children's theater season with the play "Skupper Dupper," written by Flora Atkin and directed by Thomas Gressler. It will run July 2, and 4 through 7.

The crew of the Skupper Dupper invites its audience to join in a journey to Alaska, Hawaii, the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico. At each port the crew and captain act out a fable or folk tale from that particular place.

The purpose of the trip is to look at some of the customs of various countries.

Director Thomas Gressler has made the play into one that involves the audience. Children are invited to help pull up the sails, swab down the deck and help the crew sing their sea shanties.

The cast is attacking the play with gusto and according to one member are enjoying what they're doing. Able Seaman Theresa Killian is especially pleased with the play. "We all get to do something different. One minute I'm a crab and the next I'm a pelican. I love it."

Other members of the cast include Risa King, Rod Davidson, Dan Lewin, Dennis Dolan, Mike Wilson, Katy Lasswell, Joyce Bemis, Jim Conant and Karen Campbell.

Tickets may be picked up in the box office and are $1 each. The boat casts off at 11 a.m. and is in home port at noon.

Henry VI lecture set today

Henry VI, part three, a lecture by Floria Johnson of the University English department, will be given today at 7:30 p.m. in the Eugene Public Library.

Elizabethan refreshments and costumes by the Eugene chapter of the Society for Creative Anachronism will follow.

The event is part of the Shakespeare with Friends series extending through July 14, sponsored by Friends of the Eugene Public Library, Inc.

Saturday the group will host classical harp music by Helen Rifas as part of the same series. The performance begins at 12:30 p.m. Saturday in the library. Both events are free and open to the public.

Alcoholism film featured

Many women have a drinking problem hidden by those close to them and by society in general. The problems and treatment of the female alcoholic will be the topic of the next community alcohol education program Tuesday, with speaker Mary Moore and a film showing. The free program is at Central Presbyterian Church at 15th Avenue and Patterson Street and is coordinated by the Lane County Council on Alcoholism.

The film, entitled "The New Life of Sandra Blain," tells the story of a woman alcoholic who is a wife and mother, who loses everything because of her drinking, and through treatment and effort rebuilds her life.

Stahl receives study grant

University researcher Franklin Stahl has received a $29,742 grant from the U.S. Public Health Service to help fund a study of processes through which genetic information is exchanged in bacterial viruses.

The research project, entitled "Recombinational Intermediates in Phage Lambda," has been supported by the federal agency for several years.

Stahl, a research associate in the University's Institute of Molecular Biology, said he is conducting the work in collaboration with Dhruva Dhattoraj, also a research associate in the Institute.
