

...et al

Growers begin burning

The first field burning of the summer began last Friday, according to the Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ).

The burning will be conducted under an interim system of burning permits. The system was developed by the DEQ to allow the growers to take advantage of favorable smoke management conditions between now and the end of the month. By that time, the regular burning permit system will be in place. The interim permits are being sent out to the fire districts today.

The interim system was necessitated by the late passage of the new field burning law by the Legislature. Implementation of the new law has required re-registration of fields. In addition, the law requires the Environmental Quality Commission (EQC) to reallocate the increased acreage allowed this year. The re-registration must be completed by July 10. The EQC will be meeting on Friday to adopt a method of allocation. The meeting will take place at 2 p.m. in Room 129 of the Marion County Courthouse in Salem.

Unless a field has been re-registered, burning will not be permitted. A $1 per acre fee must be paid at the time of registration. Another $2.50 per acre will be collected for acreage actually burned.

Bus riders take shelter

Eugene bus riders now have places to come in out of the rain. The first six of eighteen new passenger shelters were installed last week by the Lane Transit District (LTD).

The shelters, which cost a total of $45,295, were constructed of three plexiglass panels installed in a cement floor with a plexiglass covering. The interior seating is made of hemlock.

Originally scheduled for completion in May, a delay at the manufacturer postponed the installations until last week. Each shelter was built for an average of $2,500 with funds from a grant through the Urban Mass Transit Administration and local share funds.

New shelters are located at Gilbert Shopping Center, Riviera Shopping Center, Celeste Campbell Senior Center, 10th Avenue and Willamette Street, 10th Avenue and Olive Street, 28th Avenue and Willamette Street, Oakway Road and Coburg Road, 16th Avenue and Arthur Street, 18th Avenue and Chambers Street, 18th Avenue and Willamette Street, 8th Avenue and Park Avenue, 58th Avenue and Main Street, 8th Avenue and Garfield Street, Mohawk Boulevard, Olympic Avenue, and 23rd Avenue and Main Street.

No shelters are planned during the next year.

Chemistry prof receives grant to aid research

University chemistry professor Virgil Boekelheide has received a National Science Foundation (NSF) grant for an on-going research project, and a special NSF grant which will allow him to travel to Japan to confer with a scientist there conducting similar research.

The NSF has awarded Boekelheide $56,000 as continuing support for his study of molecular structure of organic compounds. In addition, a $7,300 NSF travel grant awarded under a cooperative science program between the United States and Japan will allow Boekelheide and an associate to visit the University of Osaka in Osaka, Japan for discussions with Soichi Misumi, a scientist conducting a similar research project.

A long-range goal of the research, Boekelheide said, is to construct an organic compound which would display at normal temperatures the high-performance or "superconducting" properties which some metals display at extremely low temperatures. Such a compound would be useful to society as an efficient conductor of electricity and other forms of energy, he said.

Frishkoff gains new position

University business professor Paul Frishkoff, has been named head of the University's department of accounting and quantitative methods.

Frishkoff, 37, an associate professor of accounting, replaces Chris Luneski, who is returning to full-time teaching.

Adult classes still available

There are still openings in several adult classes of the Eugene Parks and Recreation's Summer Program at Amazon Village Community Center, 2700 Hilyard in basketry and weaving. Call 687-5373 for details.

Fishermen to get notices

Hearing notices for Coos Bay fishermen are going out this month from Oregon Sen. Bob Packwood and the United States Senate Commerce, Science and Transportation Committee.

Packwood, a member of the Commerce Committee, said the purpose of the hearing would be to learn what problems fishermen are encountering with foreign fishing vessels, the 200-mile zone enforcement, and to gather ideas on developing and maintaining United States fishery resources.

Many problems confronting the American commercial fishing industry Packwood is expected to hear include dangerous maneuvers by foreign vessels to scare American ships from prime fishing grounds, garbage dumping at sea by foreign ships and the violation of preferred fishing areas inside the 200-mile limit by foreign fishermen.

The hearings are scheduled for some time in August, with the place and time to be set next week.

Packwood was in Oregon over the week-long Congressional Fourth of July recess.

City slates bike clinic

As part of its summer outdoor program, the Eugene Parks and Recreation Department will offer a bicycle touring clinic through August 1. The workshop, open to all ages, will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays at Sheldon Meadows Community Center, 2445 Willakenzie Road.

The four sessions will include information and discussion about touring bikes, touring gear, conditioning, preparation, necessary mechanics, riding techniques and travel logistics.

The final session will include a three-screen slide presentation by the clinic instructor, Mark Bondurant, showing his bike trip last summer from Reedsport, Ore. to Eastport, Maine. Bondurant, a Bikecentennial tour leader, will supply more information about the clinic upon request. His telephone number is 687-5307.

Cost of the course is $4. No equipment is required.

Postal rates announced

Postal rates for second-class, bulk third-class non-profit, special fourth-class and library rate were increased last week as the result of the phase-in rates established under the Postal Reorganization Act of 1971.

The increases in second-class rates vary depending on type of publication, amount of advertising, and the postal zone to which it is being mailed. Both the pound rate for circulars and the minimum per piece charge will increase for non-profit third-class bulk mailers. The per pound circular rate will be 14 cents with the minimum per piece charge of 2.1 cents.

Special fourth-class rates are used for mailing books, most films, sound recordings, and certain other materials. The rate will be 30 cents for the first pound, 11 cents for each additional pound through 7 pounds, and 8 cents each additional pound to the maximum of 70 pounds.

Library rate will increase to 11 cents for the first pound and remain at 4 cents for each additional pound with a maximum weight of 70 pounds.

briefs

MEETINGS

Alternative Resources for Student Housing will have an organizational meeting Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in the EMU, room to be posted.

The group is a newly formed organization which will attempt to begin cooperative housing for students residing off-campus.

Topics to be discussed at the meeting include the logic of co-ops, the interests and needs of students in alternative housing, exploring how the housing office could be approached in providing housing for student cooperatives, the need for thorough research and a question-and-answer period.

Students with course work completed in real estate, business, finance and accounting are particularly encouraged to attend.

The Campus Zen Fellowship meets for meditation and discussion Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. in Century Room "E" of the EMU. Beginners are welcome.

There will be a University Democrats meeting

Wednesday at 3 p.m., EMU (room to be posted). All Democrats are welcome.

LECTURES

Thursday at 7:30 p.m. the Eugene Public Library will host a lecture by Dr. Thelma Greenfield of the University's English department on "Anthony and Cleopatra," followed by Elizabethan refreshments. This is the final lecture in the four week Shakespeare with Friends event sponsored by Friends of the Eugene Public Library. Free.

INTERVIEWS

The following school district will be interviewing for teaching positions in the Career Planning and Placement Center, Room 246, Susan Campbell Hall. Sign-up sheet is posted in the lobby.

July 14, Fairbanks School District. Positions as high school counselor, school psychologist, secondary instrumental music teacher and elementary vocal and/or instrumental music teacher.

One resume-writing workshop will be held during summer session on Wednesday, July 13 from 1 to 2 p.m. Sign-up sheet is posted in the lobby of the Career Planning and Placement Office.

GIFTED

PSYCHIC READER & ADVISER

I have devoted my life to the studies and the development of the sensitivities necessary to provide effective personal advice on love, marriage, health, business, and career direction. No problem is insoluble.

Mary
1855 Oak Apt. 2
Eugene, Oregon 97405
485-6773

WE NEED A NEW NAME!

WIN: Woolrich Buffalo Shirt ($18.75 value) OR CampTrails Alpak ($19.95 value)

create a new name for THE OUTDOOR RESOURCE CENTER

bring your entry to us in the south end of the EMU basement by Thursday July 28th

the winning name will be announced in the ODE classifieds Aug. 2

suggested name _____

your name _____

address _____

Phone number _____

Oregon Daily Emerald

The Oregon Daily Emerald is published Monday through Friday except during exam weeks and vacations, by the Oregon Daily Emerald Publishing Co., Inc., at the University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore. 97403. It appears twice-weekly during summer classes.

The Oregon Daily Emerald operates independently of the University with offices on the third floor of the Erb Memorial Union and is a member of Associated Press.

Emerald subscriptions are $7 per term, $20 per year.

News and Editorial
Display Advertising and Business
Classified Advertising
Production

686-5511
686-3712
686-4343
686-4381

Editor
Managing Editor/News Editor
Graphics Editor

Wally Benson
Tom Wolfe
Erich Boekelheide

Assistant News Editors:
State System, Departments and Schools
Politics and Community
Features, ASUO

Melody Ward
Kevin Harden
Jack Hatfield

Night Editor

Becky Young

Production Manager
Advertising Manager
Accountant

Kate Seigal
Carl Bryant
Ted Johnston