

Books accepted for Fair

The University and the Eugene Family YMCA's are collecting books for their annual Book Fair. YMCA will accept paperbacks and hardbacks; textbooks, fiction and non-fiction books, adult books and children's books. They also accept specialty magazines such as National Geographic, Western Horseman and Arizona Highways.

Books can be left at the University YMCA office, Suite 5 in the EMU, or at the Eugene Family YMCA, 2055 Patterson St. Receipts will be provided for income tax purposes. Anyone who is unable to deliver their books can call 686-4431 or 344-6251 and arrange to have them picked up.

The Book Fair will be Oct. 20, through 22 at the Eugene Family YMCA. The proceeds from this annual event will go to the international work of YMCA. This year's project will involve the street children of Columbia.

City now taking art proposals

The City of Eugene is now accepting proposals from qualified individuals or organizations who wish to provide cultural arts services for the community funded by Room Tax during fiscal year 1977-78.

Submit proposals to the Eugene Parks and Recreation Department, 858 Pearl St., by 5 p.m. Friday.

IRS returns rebate checks

Renters or homeowners who filed property tax relief forms last spring and have moved but haven't filed a change of address with the Eugene office of the U.S. Postal Service will have their checks returned to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) in Salem.

Any such persons should call the IRS office now at 378-3366 to receive their rebate check.

The checks will be mailed to qualified residents beginning Oct. 17 as part of the Homeowners and Renters Property tax relief program.

Walter Pavlich, director of off-campus housing, reminds students of their obligation to distribute the check between the residents of the house or apartment.

Art Museum dept. given new location

The Visual Arts Resources Department of the University Museum of Art has moved to 1802 Moss St. and the space in the museum will be retained for crating shows for shipping.

Previously housed in the basement of the museum, the department now occupies a former residence on the edge of the campus. The upstairs living area of the house is serving as office space and the basement is used for art works preparation.

The department, the largest within the museum, is headed by Michael Whitenack.

Auditions set for plays

The play will be given Jan. 18—21 and Jan. 25—28 in the Arena Theatre. Director Betty Bernhard says there are parts for one male and one female.

University students and members of the public are welcome to audition for two productions at the University Theatre.

Tryouts for "Story Theatre" by Paul Sils will be held at 7 p.m. Oct. 17 and 18 in the Pocket Playhouse, Villard Hall. There are parts for one small, childlike actor and for seven to 10 actors versatile in singing and dancing.

The play, a stylized collection of Aesop's fables and Grimm's fairy tales, will be produced Dec. 2, 3, 9 and 10 in the Robinson Theatre. It will be directed by Ellen Dennis and Nancy Hills.

Auditions will be Oct. 23 and 24 for "Jesse and the Bandit Queen," an adult Western fantasy about Jesse James and Belle Starr by David Freeman. Tryouts are at 7 p.m. in the Pocket Playhouse.
