

Drop deadline Friday

Friday is the last day to drop a course or to make credit changes this term. Drop/add forms may be obtained at the Office of the Registrar from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. A department stamp is required for each drop or credit change and $1 charge is made for each transaction.

Students who have not picked up a computer printout of their course registration should do so in the Office of the Registrar. Correction of errors in registration or address changes may still be made before the end of fall term.

Brass Choir to perform

The University Brass Choir will perform at Beall Concert Hall on Thursday at 8 p.m.

The musical program will include Renaissance compositions by Gabrielle as well as contemporary selections by Presser, Schmidt and Hocombe.

Professor Ira Lee of the music school will conduct the group. He will attempt to create an antiphonal choir by splitting the group into two sections and directing a group on the balcony and a group on the stage of Beall Hall at the same time.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

Autzen tour held today

Today's Tours du Jour will take an "insiders look at Autzen Stadium," according to Fred Mohr of University Relations.

Interested persons should meet at 12:10 p.m. at the Faculty Club to take a van to the stadium.

No lunch will be served and participants are encouraged to bring a sack lunch.

Friendship funds available

Applications may be made until Jan. 15 for partial tuition scholarships through the Japanese-American Friendship Fund for spring term at the University.

The fund was established recently through the University Development Fund and is a project of the Oregon Alumni Association of Japan.

Scholarships will be awarded to American students studying the Japanese language and to Japanese students who will be able to contribute to good Japanese/American relations.

Application forms may be obtained in the office of the Chinese and Japanese departments, 302 Friendly Hall.

PEANUTS

Fast set for world's hungry

The Campus Christian Ministry (CCM) will hold a unique "banquet" on the terrace of the EMU Thursday. The banquet will help raise funds for the "Fast for World Hunger" sponsored by OXFAM International.

Doug Huneke of the CCM said an elaborate dinner table will be set up outside the EMU from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

He said a "parron" will choose an item from one of several menus from Eugene area restaurants. The patron will be asked to fast and contribute the amount of the item chosen to OXFAM.

For more information, contact Huneke at x3579.

Geology prof speaks today

John Bird, professor of geology at Cornell University and a distinguished lecturer of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, will speak at the University Thursday at 8 p.m. in the EMU (room to be posted).

Slides presented tonight

"The Kalmiopsis Wildlands," a slide show produced by two former University students, will be shown tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the EMU (room to be posted).

The Kalmiopsis Wildlands are the largest undeveloped tract of land in Oregon, located in the Siskiyou Mountains in southwest Oregon.

The slide show and short discussion are sponsored by the University Survival Center.

Skiers to discuss season

The Hockey Ski Club will hold its annual fall "information coffee" to discuss the upcoming ski season, 10:30 a.m. Thursday at the Eugene Family YMCA, 2055 Patterson St.

The Hockey Ski Club will operate a bus to the ski areas on Wednesdays beginning in January for both downhill and cross-country skiers.

According to Chari Boehnke, community relations director, ski club members are saved the inconvenience of driving their own cars and the resulting parking problems and expense.

The public is invited to the meeting. For more information, call Virginia Gleaves, 686-1222.

Simmons lecture slated

Matty Simmons, co-producer of the Movie "National Lampoon's Animal House" will speak in the EMU Thursday at 8 p.m. (room to be posted).

Simmons will explain the "Genesis and Production of 'Animal House' and Current Trends in Publishing."

Simmons is the publisher of "National Lampoon" magazine, "Heavy Metal" magazine and "Weight-Watcher's Magazine." He is also co-founder of the Diner's Club.
