

Christmas party slated

A holiday party for children of faculty and staff members will be from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Thursday in Room 167 of the EMU.

The party will feature children's entertainer Wayne Allen, a sing-along, Santa Claus and a craft corner for children who wish to make holiday items.

Punch and cookies will be served, and each child will receive a treat to take home.

The party is sponsored by University Relations and University Women. All children of faculty and staff members are invited.

EMU sets holiday hours

The EMU hours for Christmas break will be irregular until Jan. 3, the first day of registration for winter term.

From Dec. 19-23, the building will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily. It will be closed for the holidays from Dec. 24-26.

On Dec. 27-30, the EMU will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. but it will be closed again Dec. 31 and Jan. 1.

First aid card required

Oregon House Bill 3132 requires all teaching certificate applicants to hold a recognized first aid card on or after Jan. 1, 1979.

In order to help University teacher candidates fulfill this requirement, the Department of Health Education will increase the number of first aid class offerings to 12 sections during winter term.

The number of openings is still expected to be limited, however.

KLCC sponsors contest

Lane Community College radio station KLCC is sponsoring a contest to generate posters for the promotion of their higher powered transmitter, which will be in operation in mid January.

KLCC is looking for posters ready for printing with one-color ink, containing the phrases "More Power To You From KLCC," and "Community Information & All That Jazz." Poster entries should also contain the words "89.7 FM Stereo."

Prizes for the three winners will be donated by local businesses. The first-place winner will receive a Sony AM/FM/Cassette Corder from the Stereo Loft at Oregon Typewriter and Recorder. The second place prize is a Cannon 28 camera donated by Dot Dotson's, the third place winner will choose a pair of Birkenstock's Footprint Sandals.

Deadline for poster entries is 9 p.m., Jan. 10. Entries may be mailed to KLCC, 4000 E. 30th Ave., Eugene, or delivered to the KLCC office on the second floor of the Forum Building at Lane Community College.

Some People Are Searching for a Group Like Ours...

Today people experiment with their lives—sometimes they find something valuable; sometimes they just waste time.

Some people have trouble finding what they want because they have a very special set of needs.... They want to give their lives for the greatest cause they can think of. They are involved with God, with other people, with life. Money, prestige, or power mean little to them. They know they want to live for God by spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

But they are searching for fresh and vibrant ways to proclaim this Gospel. They are looking for a variety of opportunities in different parts of the country to serve with a group of men who share a holy vision and live that vision in a free and friendly way.

They are looking for THE PAULISTS, a group of Catholic priests spread through the United States and Canada, working in a wide range of ministries that include parishes, campus centers, mass communications, publication, preaching, adult education centers, social services, and new approaches to inviting people to know Jesus Christ.

If you are searching to share what we do, why not write THE PAULISTS for more information.

CARES gets a new home

CARES, Lane County's information and referral and emergency mental health service, has moved to a new location to provide better public access and more comfortable quarters for citizens.

It is now located on the ground floor of 170 E. 11th Ave. in downtown Eugene. The service is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, including holidays.

CARES provides citizens information and referral to more than 350 social service agencies, as well as emergency mental health care and crisis counseling.

The number for local 24-hour calls is 687-4000.

Alcoholism film on tap Tuesday

The history and progression of the disease of alcoholism will be the topic of the next Alcohol Education Program Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Scout Room of Central Presbyterian Church, 1475 Ferry St.

A film on "The Secret Love of Sandra Blain," will be shown to depict the decline of a typical suburban housewife because of drinking.

The free program is designed for the general public and coordinated by the Lane County Council on Alcoholism.

Holiday open house slated

The Lane County Pioneer Museum's annual Christmas Open House will be held Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m.

The new exhibit, "A Child's World," will be featured with live entertainment provided by the Scarecrow Mask Theatre. The public is cordially invited to the free museum located at 740 W. 13th Ave.

"A Child's World" highlights toys and dolls of early Lane County. Locally carved wooden toys, exquisite dolls, metal toys, wagons and a tricycle are all on exhibit. The museum's Christmas tree will be decorated with ornaments and trimming of the Victorian period.

Dads' Weekend planned

The senior and sophomore classes and the University Dads' Club have scheduled a "UO Dads' Weekend" for Feb. 3, 4 and 5. While here, dads will be treated to a host of activities, including a gymnastics meet and a wrestling match, according to Senior Class Pres. Andrea Gellatly.

Exact schedules for the weekend will be announced in January. "The weekend is designed to give University students the opportunity to show their fathers what school is all about," says Gellatly. Gellatly also says all fathers can join the Oregon Dads' Club by writing to Dads' Club president Warren Carlin, a Salem architect, at 570 Liberty S.E. Salem, Oregon, 97302.

Bookstores feature McCall

Tom McCall, former Oregon governor, will attend book-signing party Dec. 22 at the University bookstore to sign copies of his book, "Maverick." The hardcover book, an autobiography written by McCall with Steve Neal, sells for $12.50.

McCall will be here from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and will then head to Valley River Center for a similar session.

Oba to appear on campus

Minako Oba, one of the top women writers in Japan, will visit the University this week. She will be available for informal conversation with the public at a sack lunch Wednesday at 12:30 in the EMU, room to be posted.

Her first story, "The Three Crabs," published in 1968, won both the Akutagawa Prize and the Sun New Writer's Prize.

Her 1975 story, "Museum of Odds and Ends," won the Women's Writers Prize for that year.

Since then she has continued to write novels, stories, essays and a play.

AAACT workshop set

The American Association for the Advancement of Clinical Training (AAACT) announces a weekend workshop in January for mental health care professionals in Eugene.

"The Structure of Psychotherapeutic Magic" will be offered by therapist teacher David Gordon. The training will take place Jan. 7-8 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Room 201 of the Eugene Hotel.

Training fees are $60 for professionals and $50 for graduate and medical students. Early registration is advised.

Registration forms are available at 240 W. 20th Ave., Eugene. Call Donald Moine for further information, at 686-2845 or 686-5573.

Filipinos hold potluck

The Filipino Community of Lane County will celebrate Christmas with a potluck and other family activities on Saturday from 1 to 6 p.m. at the Emerald Park Recreation Center, 1400 Lake Dr.

Participants are expected to bring their favorite native dishes. The featured native delicacy — roast pig on a spit — will be prepared by the organization. Steamed rice, coffee, punch and the table service will be provided.

There will be a charge of $5 per family. For more information, call Angie Dean at 485-1409.

Women sponsor hearing

The Eugene Commission on the Rights of Women and the Governor's Commission for Women will sponsor a public hearing on domestic violence at the Eugene City Council Chambers Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., according to Betsy Merck, human rights coordinator.

The hearing will consist of a panel presentation by members of Lane County law enforcement agencies and other persons familiar with the problems of domestic violence and public testimony.

Oregon Daily Emerald

The Oregon Daily Emerald is published Monday through Friday except during exam weeks and vacations, by the Oregon Daily Emerald Publishing Co., Inc., at the University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore. 97403.

The Oregon Daily Emerald operates independently of the University with offices on the third floor of the Erb Memorial Union, and is a member of the Associated Press.
