THEATER

"Constantinople Smith" Free. 4:30 p.m. Pocket Playhouse, Villard Hall. This weekly studio production is directed by Rick Harris.
"Candide" $4. University students and senior citizens 1/2 price. 8 p.m. Robinson Theatre. Musical based on Voltaire's satire, score by Leonard Bernstein, book by Hugh Wheeler and lyrics by Richard Wilbur and Stephen Sondheim. In song and dance, the audience is introduced to Candide, the innocent young hero; his lady fair, Cunegonde; and their sly old teacher, Dr. Pangloss, whose credo is that everything happens for the best in this best of all possible worlds. Candide, exiled from Westphalia, travels the world and confronts one major disaster after another. The audience will be seated on the stage or risers. An environment of platforms and traps allows for the creation of shipwrecks, hangings and earthquakes. Audience members will be able to see both the effect and mechanics used in the illusions. Winner of the 1974 New York Drama Critics Award and the five Tony Awards. Directed by Marya Bednarik, University Theatre director. For reservations: 686-4191.
"That Championship Season" $3.50. 8 p.m. Oregon Repertory Theatre, Atrium Building. A nostalgic reunion of four former high school basketball teammates. Once the Pennsylvania State Champions, they meet 20 years later at the house of their coach. They all have arrived at some sort of fixed place in the social world, and their careers in varying degrees clash with their high school dreams. Written by Jason Miller, the play has won a Pulitzer Prize, a Tony Award and the New York Drama Critics Circle Award for Best Play of the 1972 season. Directed by George Lauris. Reservations: 485-1946.
