Boogie and bump till night turns light

"It becomes like a way of life...after awhile you just go with the flow," says ESCAPE (Every Student Caring About Personalized Education) Director Susannah Malarkey of the upcoming annual ESCAPE Dance Marathon.

The third annual dance begins Saturday at 4 p.m. and lasts until 2 a.m. Sunday.

"At least 48 dancers right now have signed up says Malarkey, although she adds, "we'll probably have about 55."

Malarkey says "most dancers are worth (pledged for) about $5 an hour." She noted, however, "lots of people are still running around getting last minute pledges." She hopes to net at least $2,500.

Money from what Malarkey called "the most successful fund raising thing we've ever done" will go toward keeping the ESCAPE office running and obtaining more volunteer resource materials, among other things.

In the midst of the marathon, a public dance will take place, with music provided by Windows (formerly the Schwebke Brothers). The open dance will run from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. and admission is $1.50.

Marathon dancers will get about a five-minute break every hour during the 10-hour ordeal, except when the band's playing.

"We take breaks when they take breaks," says Malarkey.

ESCAPE will operate a recovery room across from the ballroom with foot massagers, punch and protein drinks.

Middle East situation told

By JOHN LUDWIG
Of the Emerald

In a speech delivered last night in the EMU, entitled "Palestine and the Current Middle East Status", Hasaa Alnoti, UCLA professor and author, described Egypt as a country ruled by a "petit bourgeois class which has turned from an ally of the masses to an enemy of the masses."

"This has led to the increasing antagonisms of the Egyptian masses — and out of fear of this antagonism, the petit bourgeois regime has come to terms with the Zionist imperialist camp, and has joined the repressive apparatus which is set up by U.S. imperialism to tighten control of the middle class," said Alnoti.

"So what is taking place," continued Alnoti, "is an attempt on the part of the U.S. imperialism and its allies to do away with the Arab liberation movement. As a result the Arab liberation movement has taken a dangerous turn that is embodied in the Palestinian resistance and which has erupted the Arab world for the last 12 years. I believe that the 'unholy alliance' (speaking of the Arab states) will meet with the same fate as the 'holy alliance', which was concluded in 1815 in Europe between European kings to prevent the threat of revolution."

Alnoti also discussed the three phases which Palestine has gone through in recent years. "Phase one," said Alnoti, "was the emptying of the Palestine's Arab population. Phase two was the legitimization of colonization of the Zionist states by admission into the United Nations. Phase three, which is now underway is an attempt to get the Arabs to legitimize the colonization of Palestine by U.N. by recognizing it as a sovereign state."

West coast schools probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Washington lobbyist has told the FBI he gave Rep. Daniel Flood $1,000 cash in what he understood was a payment for Flood's aid in helping several West Coast trade schools win accreditation, court records show.

Deryl Fleming, who acted as a lobbyist for the trade schools, gave the statement to the FBI on May 23, 1977, while under protective custody and cooperating with the federal government in several cases.

Flood is under investigation by federal grand juries here and in Philadelphia.
