

Sheldon site of water fun

The Eugene Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring a Family Fun Night, from 7-9 tonight.

Activities will include a scuba demonstration and underwater slide show by the Eugene Skin Diver's Supply, a splash-dive contest, a water obstacle course, water relays and a treasure hunt for young children.

Admission passes to Sheldon Pool will be given away as prizes. The program is free and open to all ages. Sheldon Pool is located at 2445 Willakerzie Rd.

Call Laurene Bates at 687-5314, for more information.

Labor class sign-up ends

The Oregon Labor Education and Research Center (LERC) will offer a course on "Contract Negotiations/Building the Union" in Astoria. Registration deadline is today.

The course will be held Feb. 21, 22, 28 and March 1 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Labor Temple on 9th Avenue and Duncan Street, Astoria. The course will be taught by Scott Tobey, a LERC instructor who is a former labor education specialist at the University of Kentucky.

The first two class sessions will focus on contract negotiations while the remaining sessions will deal with ways in which the local union can develop the support of its members. The course registration fee is $10. Persons completing the course will be awarded a certificate from LERC.

Persons interested in registering may do so by writing LERC, 154 PLC or by calling (503) 686-5054.

Kangaroo film set tonight

"Kangaroos Can't Be Cornered," filmed and narrated by Lionel Hudson, will be the fourth in a film series sponsored by the Lane County Audubon Society, tonight at 7:30 at Churchill High School, 1850 Bailey Hill Road.

According to the Audubon Society, a flood in Australia stranded the elusive giant Red Kangaroo and provided an unusual opportunity for this film.

Single admission for students is 75 cents.

For more information, call 687-0430.
