

Games workshop planned

The University Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor the First Annual International Games Workshop today from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at Francis Willard Elementary School at 2855 Lincoln St. The event is free of charge.

The workshop is intended to be of interest to all recreation leaders. University students will teach games and activities from foreign countries.

A booklet of all activities plus more will be on sale during the workshop. Refreshments will be provided.

For more information, call Kathy Rafferty at 686-6125.

Feminist to speak tonight

Mandy Carter, of the Women's Counter Recruiting Campaign in San Francisco, will speak tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Forum Room, EMU. Her speech will be "Women: the Recruiter's Last Resort," an account of women and the military.

Carter has been on the War Resister's League staff in San Francisco and Los Angeles since 1969. In the summer of 1977 she moved back to San Francisco from Los Angeles to create and coordinate the Women's Counter Recruiting Campaign. As a feminist and a pacifist, Carter has been an active organizer for a number of campaigns. She is currently planning a conference on Women and Nonviolence for this summer in San Francisco.

Carter's visit to Eugene is sponsored by Clergy & Laity Concerned, a national peace and justice organization, and Women's Referral and Resource Service, serving women at the University and in the community. For more information, call Doug Barber at 485-1755 or Polly Moak at 686-3327.

Library hours extended

The University Library system will extend its weekend operating hours during the final two weeks of winter term.

Under the extended hours, the Main Library Reserve Book Room and Science Library will be open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday.

On Saturday, the Main Library and the Science Library will be open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., while the Reserve Book Room will be open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m..

The Main Library will be open Sunday from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m.; the Reserve Book Room from 10 a.m. to midnight; and the Science Library from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Extended hours for the Architecture and Allied Arts branch library will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, and from noon to 10 p.m. Sunday.

The libraries will close at 5 p.m. on Friday, March 17. Between academic terms, the University libraries will be opened weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will be closed weekends. Regular schedules will be resumed Thursday, March 30, the first day of the spring term.

Scandinavian discussion set

Kathleen Putnam will visit the University to discuss the Scandinavian Seminar with interested students Tuesday.

Putnam was a student on the program in Norway during 1976-77. She will be available to talk with students about the program on a drop-in basis from 2-5 p.m. in the Office of International Student Services, 172 Oregon Hall. She will also give a talk and slide show Wednesday at 9:30 a.m., and 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in Library Studio B.

Scandinavian Seminar is now accepting applications for its study abroad program in Denmark, Finland, Norway, or Sweden for the academic year 1978-79. This program is designed for college students, graduates and other adults who want to become part of culture while acquiring a second language.

The fee, covering tuition, room, board, one-way group transportation from New York and all course-connected travels in Scandinavia is $3,800. A limited number of scholarship loans are available.

For further information, contact International Student Services, 172 Oregon Hall 686-3206.

German play on tap

Students of the German department will perform "Biedermann und die Brandstifter" by Max Frisch at the second annual presentation by fourth-year students enrolled in "Production Germany Drama," tonight and Tuesday at 8 in the Pocket Playhouse, Villard Hall.

The play is the story of a smug bourgeois of dubious convictions who aligns himself with evil in the shape of an arsonist trio. The humor in the dialogue ranges from the funny to the farcical.

There is no admission charge, but donations will be accepted.

Solons to field questions

What does a legislator do when a constituent charges that an agency of government has denied him his civil liberties?

This and other questions will be answered by several legislators from Lane County Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Harris Hall.

The public meeting on the Role of Legislator in Preserving Civil Liberties is sponsored by the American Civil Liberties Union. Senators Ted Kulongoski and Ed Fadeley and Representatives Mary Burrows, Gratten Kerans and Bill Rogers will describe how each handles charges of abuse of civil liberties by governmental agencies. Moderator for the panel is ACLU board member Charlene Curry.

Tales to be woven

A feminist and self-proclaimed story-teller will weave her tales in the EMU today at 1 in the Forum Room.

Cynthia Orr tells stories through Lane County Regional Arts Commission and will hold a workshop after the program for those interested in improving their techniques.

Alcohol group continues

How does the recovering alcoholic spend his leisure time in ways that promote his recovery and make life enjoyable?

Recreational activities for the person who has a drinking problem is the subject of the next alcohol education program Tuesday at the Central Presbyterian Church, 7:30 p.m.
