

Music recitals in store

Several student recitals will take place this week at Beall Concert Hall.

Clarinet students will give a recital Thursday at 12:30 p.m. Composition students will present original compositions Friday at 12:30 p.m.

Also on Friday will be a senior degree recital with Kathryn Porto performing on piano at 8 p.m.

Bruce Barnett will also give his senior degree piano recital Saturday at 8 p.m.

Sylvia Spender will present her Master's degree cello recital with the accompaniment of Victor Steinhardt, music school associate professor, on piano Sunday at 8 p.m.

All concerts are free and the public is invited to attend.

Art grant lecture slated

The Cultural Arts Program of the Eugene Parks and Recreation Department and Eugene Public Library are co-sponsoring a discussion on "Grants for Art Projects" from 7-9 p.m., Thursday, in the library's lecture room.

Selina Roberts from the Lane Regional Arts Council will talk about CETA funds for the arts and grants from private foundations. She will also be explaining a Room Tax purchase the Arts Council just received for "What can you do with Art?" in Eugene neighborhoods.

Angus Randolph from the Oregon Arts Commission will discuss guidelines and procedures and answer questions pertaining to grants from OAC and the National Endowment for the Arts.

For more information call Sherold Barr at 687-5353.

Choral concert coming

The annual Lane Community College (LCC) choral concert will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the college's performing arts theatre.

In addition to the LCC Chamber and Concert Choirs, the choirs of North Eugene and Willamette High Schools will also perform.

Included in the program are several religious works, such as Hans Leo Hansler's "Missa Secunda," Victoria's "Ave Maria" and a double-choir performance of Williams's "Alleluia." Among the lighter, secular works on the program are "Streets of Laredo" by Hunter, "Love So Right" by the Bee Gees and de Sermisy's "To You, Fair Grove." Wayne Kirchner, director of choral music at Lane Community College, coordinates the concert.

The concert is free to the public.

Aid requests available

Financial aid student applications for the academic year 1978-79 are now available in the Office of Student Financial Aid, 270 Oregon Hall.

The scholarship application process must be completed and returned to the office no later than April 1.

Two faculty recommendations are required for the scholarship.

Bookstore pays up in raffle

The University Bookstore ran a raffle last week to garner suggestions for improvement of the store, and seven prizes were given to students who participated.

Thomas Bricca won the first place prize, a weekend for two at the Inn at Spanish Head.

Other names chosen out of the 600 entries won gift certificates. They were Brian O'Grady, who won $25; Janellen Hill Brown and John McLean who each won $10; Brett Larson, Barbara Camden and Guthrie Hayden who each won $5.

The bookstore board is currently reviewing the suggestions.

Concert band to perform

The University concert band, under the direction of Gerald Poe, will give a concert Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Beall Concert Hall.

The group will perform Richard Wagner's "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral," Beethoven's "Two Short Pieces for Wind Ensemble," Leonard Bernstein's "Three Dance Episodes" and John Phillip Sousa's "Riders for the Flag."

The band will also perform at Willamette High School tonight at 8 in a joint concert with groups from South Albany and Willamette High Schools.

Both concerts are free and the public is invited.

Forum series continues

The Community Forum Series continues with the third in a series of workshops on community self-reliance and its alternatives for local economic development, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Ida

Patterson Community School, 1510 W. 15th Ave.

The topic of the session is "Growth and Housing." Participating on the panel will be Jack Delay, city councilor; Betty Niven, Eugene's foremost housing representative; Jim Johnson, Lane County housing planner; and Bruce Anderson, attorney for People to Preserve Agricultural Lands.

The forum is free to the public.

Oregon Coast people to meet

There will be an important general meeting March 9 in Rm. 219, Sc. III for all the people who have been accepted into "People and the Oregon Coast." Be sure to mail the $20 deposit to O.I.M.B. before the meeting.

Chemist receives grant

The increasing price of oil has caused chemists to take a renewed interest in an old process.

Richard Finke, a University assistant professor of chemistry, is doing basic research aimed at improving the Fischer-Tropsch process, an old German process that allows the synthesis of petrochemicals from coal instead of oil.

Finke recently received two grants for the research he began last fall. He received $10,000 from the American Chemical Society — Petroleum Research Fund, and $9,000 from the Research Corporation. Both supply funds for new research in chemistry.

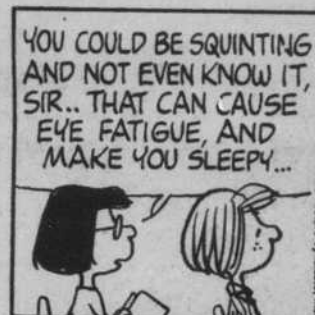

In particular, Finke is involved in preparing and explaining the chemistry of new types of materials that contain two or more transition metals.

Transition metals are widely used as "catalysts" to facilitate chemical reactions, such as the transformation of crude oil into gasoline.

One eventual aim of the research is to prepare new, more efficient "catalysts" for the Fischer-Tropsch process.

MISCELLANEOUS

We are asking that any organization contacted by Brandy Publishing Company in Seattle (sales rep; Terry Conway) please contact the ASUO Office before committing yourself to any agreement with that company. They will be seeking sponsorship of an "activities calendar" from your organization.

The ASUO has already made plans to publish such a calendar through the GUIDE staff. Please contact Michael Connelly, Rich Riegel, or Terry Vaughn in the ASUO Office if this company asks for your sponsorship.

The Magic Penny Circus, a four-member Christian troupe from Montana will visit and perform tonight in the EMU (room to be posted). Admission is free. Sponsored by the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship.

The First Congregational Church Weekday Nursery School will have open registration tonight, from 7-9 in the Fellowship Hall downstairs at the Church, located at 23rd and Harris Sts. Next fall the school will offer several two, three and four day a week programs for children who will be either three or four years old by next Nov. 15. A five-day program may be added if there is sufficient interest. School facilities will be open for inspection the night of registration. Anyone with questions may call Nancy Hughes at 344-8888 or Helen Thorpe at 345-3015.

POLICY

The Emerald's briefs column is open to anyone wishing to announce meetings, lectures or miscellaneous events. Briefs are run only once and are subject to space limitations. They should be typed and triple-spaced in a 65-character margin. Include all pertinent information, including the date you want it to run. Also, include a name and phone number in case we have questions. Events with donations or admission charges will not be considered.

All items must be turned in by 2 p.m. the day before publication at the Emerald office, Room 300, EMU.
