

Overseas jobs available

U.S. students will have the opportunity to work in France, Ireland and Great Britain this summer through the "Work in Europe" program sponsored by the Council on International Educational Exchange (CIEE).

For the past nine years, this program has provided students with the direct experience of living and working in another country and has helped reduce the cost of the trip abroad.

Participants must find their own jobs, but will have the help of cooperating student travel organizations in each country.

To qualify for the program, students must be between the ages of 18 and 30. To work in France, they must also be able to speak French.

For more information and application forms, contact CIEE, Dept. PR-A, 777 United Nations Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10017.

African experience open

Operation Crossroads Africa, an international program which places American volunteers in summer work-study assignments in 34 French and English-speaking African countries, is still looking for 1978 volunteers.

The program offers individuals an opportunity to share unique experiences with Africans, helping to build schools and clinics, and working to develop skills in agriculture, music, art, health education, journalism and community development.

Volunteers often arrange to receive academic credit for their summer experience.

Persons interested in becoming 1978 Crossroads volunteers are encouraged to contact: Crossroads Africa, Inc., 150 5th Ave., New York, N.Y. 10011.

Course in taxes offered

As a public service, the University's College of Business Administration will offer a special, practical spring term course for area residents who want to learn more about tax returns and tax planning.

The course, entitled "Dealing with your Taxes," will be held on Monday evenings from 7 to 9:50 p.m., beginning April 3.

Richard Sheetz, CPA, tax manager and staff instructor in taxation, Coopers & Lybrand, will teach the course and coordinate guest presentations by other professionals from the Eugene business community.

Class sessions will deal with preparation of individual tax returns, tax planning for investments, shelters, gifts and estates and business taxes.

Those interested may register for the course during Community Education registration from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Wednesday in Mac Court. Registration also will be available at the first class meeting.

The course offers three credit hours. Registration fee is $61.

Slide program features Sicily

Waldo McNeir, a retired University English professor will deliver a talk entitled "Sicily: Crossroads of the Old World" at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Studio A of the library. During the talk, McNeir will show slides he took during travels in Sicily.

McNeir, who retired in 1974 and now lives in Houston, Tex., was a member of the English department for 13 years.

Center offers pair of classes

A woodblock printing class and an earlybird slimnastics class begin today at Westmoreland Community Center. Registration is open now for both classes.

Martha Kemp, a local woodblock printing artist, will teach an eight-week class on printing techniques with carved wooden blocks Tuesdays, 7:45-9:45 p.m. through May 18. Fee is $10.

Working women are especially invited to participate in an exercise class before work two days each week through May 19. The new earlybird slimnastics class is scheduled from 6:30-7:30 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. Fee is $7. Scholarships are available.

For registration or information about either of these classes, phone or stop by Westmoreland Community Center, 1545 West 22nd Ave. 687-5316.

Financial forms due Saturday

Students wishing to apply for financial aid at the University for the 1978-79 school year must submit financial aid forms by Saturday.

Applications for aid during the 1978 summer session must also be filed by Saturday.

Financial aid forms may be obtained from the financial aid office, 270 Oregon Hall. Hours are 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Counselors are available by appointment to assist in solving any problems.

Any applicant for aid must provide the University with a copy of current income tax returns.
