

Architecture seeks head

The architecture department in the School of Architecture and Allied Arts is hiring a new department head and the search committee has narrowed the applicants to three candidates.

Students and faculty are invited to meet with the candidates and join in the discussion of the leadership and directions the department should consider.

Candidate Jack Long will be speaking from 8-9:30 p.m. in 2B3 Lawrence Hall tonight.

The other candidates, Louis Lionni and Charles Rusch, will speak Monday and Wednesday, April 10 and 12 respectively, in 2B3 Lawrence at 8 p.m.

A no-host reception will follow the talks.

Anti-nuke film shows today

Harvey Wasserman, author of "Harvey Wasserman's History of the United States" and long-time anti-nuclear activist will present his film "The Last Resort" tonight at 8 in 150 Geology.

Wasserman is also co-founder of the Clamshell Alliance in organization of the occupation of the Seabrook N.H. nuclear power plant site last June.

The film, sponsored by Trojan Decommissioning Alliance reportedly presents the human side of the Seabrook occupation.

Admission is free.

Fellowship hosts concert

Hosanna Fellowship, an arm of Hosanna Children's Center, will present Chris Cowgill in concert at the International Motel in Springfield, tonight. Coffee fellowship begins at 7 p.m. with the concert following at 7:30 p.m.

Cowgill is a singer-guitarist from Albany who performs for churches and retreats.

Hosanna Fellowship is a family ministry.

There is no admission charge for the evening, but a free-will offering will be taken to help the program of Hosanna Children's Center, a Christian organization working against child abuse.

Project sets workshops

The Good Neighbor Project (GNP) of Family Counseling Services will offer a new workshop series the first and third Wednesdays of each month from 7-10 p.m. at their office, 1432 Orchard St. No. 3.

Led by GNP staff, these three-hour workshops will focus on various topics. The April workshop on Wednesday is on "Anger." On April 19 the topic is "Victim, Doubt and False Choice."

Tuition is $2 per evening. Anyone interested in a calendar of these workshops or more information, may call the GNP office at 342-2551.

Vista looking for agencies

Public or private nonprofit agencies that can use the services of a Vista volunteer should apply now at the Lane County Vista Project Office.

Thirteen new volunteers are available for work with low-income individuals starting in June at little cost to the employer.

An agency is expected to provide supervision and minimum support services such as desk space and supplies. Living expenses, medical benefits and insurance are provided to each volunteer directly from the federal government.

Agencies interested in securing the services of a Vista Volunteer should contact Kathy Ask, Social Services Division Administration, 135 E. 6th Ave. or call 687-4387.
