

Woods defender to speak

A talk by Omowale Kefing, chairer of the National Committee to Defend Dessie Woods and member of the African People's Socialist Party, will be part of a West Coast tour, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Grower's Market Building, 454 Willamette St.

Kefing was one of the founders of the committee to defend Woods.

Woods is a black woman from Georgia who killed a white man who allegedly tried to rape her when she was hitchhiking in 1975. She was sentenced to 22 years in the Georgia Women's Institute of Corrections.

Childcare will be provided.

Win a Cessna Airplane

A contest "to capture the imagination of all the people who've ever folded, crimped, licked, taped or otherwise manufactured" paper airplanes is sponsored by Anheuser-Busch, Inc., according to Marketing Manager Jack MacDonough.

The grand prize is a Cessna 152 Airplane plus free flying lessons.

Rules state that persons should construct a fixed wing paper airplane that sustains flight solely by use of aerodynamic forces, with a total length and wingspan of no more than 60 inches.

Contest participants should print name and address on the plane and mail in a folded, ready-to-fly condition to: The Anheuser-Busch Natural Light Paper Airplane Contest, P.O. Box 8404, Blair Neb. 68009.

All entries must be received by May 15.

Poetry contest offers cash

A grand prize of $1,000 will be awarded in a new poetry competition sponsored by World of Poetry, a bi-monthly newsletter for poets. Also included are 49 other cash and merchandise awards.

Rules and entry forms are available from World of Poetry, 2431 Stockton Blvd., Dept. C, Sacramento, Calif. 95817.

Architecture Dept. to sponsor guest speaker

A Visiting Fellow from the Princeton University Department of Architecture will lecture on the importance of symbols in architecture at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, 177 Lawrence Hall.

Joseph Rykwert of the history of art and architecture department at the University of Essex in England will present "Symbol as Language" as the first in a series of lectures presented by the University Department of Architecture, School of Architecture and Allied Arts.

In the series, called "Architecture As Language," architects will offer alternative approaches to architecture.

All sessions are free and open to the public.

Program renews accreditation

The Administrative Certification Program of the College of Education has been recommended for another five-year accreditation by a state review team.

Final action will be taken by the Teacher Standards and Practices commission later this spring.

The new accreditation would be effective until Aug. 31, 1983. Present accreditation expires Aug. 31 of this year.

The program is offered by the Center for Educational Policy and Management at the University.

Music group sets meeting

The University student chapter of the Music Educator's National Conference will meet in Room 202 Music Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

A slide presentation, "You and the Music Business," will be given at the meeting. In addition, officers for next year will be nominated.

Lois Harrison, music school professor and the local chapter's advisor, says any student interested in a professional organization of musicians is invited to attend the meeting.

Deadline moved back

The deadline for completing priority financial aid applications for the 1978-79 academic year has been moved back to May 1, according to Edmond Vignoul, financial aid director.

The extension from April 1 is due to delays in the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program, he says.

Last year, University students shared about $9.8 million in financial aid opportunities.

The meeting will be held in the Carson Hall Ball Room at 4 p.m. April 17 is the deadline for filing an RA application in the Housing Office, Walton Hall.

LECTURES

The W.E. (Wednesday Evening) Program, a series of seminars of a variety of topics, sponsored by the Campus Christian Ministry, begins this evening at 6 at the Newman Center. Register at beginning of sessions; seminars run for seven weeks each Wednesday evening, followed by refreshments/fellowship/celebration. All are welcome. For more info call 484-1707.

Daniel Pope, assistant professor of history, will deliver a lecture on "An Historical Survey of Unemployment and Inflation: A Socio-Political Portrait of the American Experience" in the Honors College Lounge, tonight, 7:30. His lecture will be followed by a panel discussion, panel members being Profs. Hanhardt, Sheridan and Goldstein. Visitors are welcome.

POLICY

The Emerald's briefs column is open to anyone wishing to announce meetings, lectures or miscellaneous events. Briefs are run only once and are subject to space limitations. They should be typed and triple-spaced in a 65-character margin. Include all pertinent information, including the date you want it to run. Also, include a name and phone number in case we have questions. Events with donations or admission charges will not be considered.

All items must be turned in by 2 p.m. the day before publication at the Emerald office, Room 300, EMU.
