Childers wins, but Ducks fall to Pilots

By STEVE JETT
Of the Emerald

University of Portland had a score to settle Wednesday afternoon at the covered courts.

Portland avenged a rough showing last year against Oregon by blasting the Ducks 6-3 and dropping Oregon's record on the season to 3-7.

Last season the Ducks gained a sweep of Portland with 5-4 and 7-2 wins, but this time the visiting Pilots snared four of the six singles points and won two of the doubles.

"They are a better team this season," praised Oregon coach Buzz Summers. "They have a couple of scholarships in their program and it becomes an advantage for them in getting players. But many of the matches today could have gone either way. They were very close."

Wins by Bill Gealder and Steve Day helped the Pilots, and the two later came back to rout Oregon's Tom Greider and Russ Childers 7-6, 6-2 in doubles. The Ducks' Russ Childers and Jim Wilson won single matches, with Childers going three sets against Hans Munch before winning and Wilson nailing down a 6-1, 1-6, 6-2 triumph. Steve Bolstad and Tom Goldman teamed for Oregon to get a doubles win 6-4, 6-7, 7-6.

"I was especially pleased with Russ Childers," said Summers. "He came back from losing a match point at 5-3 in the third set to win."

Russ Childers, here serving against Portland's Hans Munch, won the number one singles match Wednesday at the covered courts, but the Pilots beat the Ducks in the match, 6-3.

suffered last Saturday.

"He injured it when he slipped on the poor courts," explained Summers. "The courts are slick and they have ledges. Between them you can get clubbed."

Seattle University arrives today for a 2:30 match with the Ducks. Seattle bears former Sunset High School standout Jon Kemper, but other than that their potential is a mystery.

"I do not know much about them," said Summers. "But I know they have been beaten by Washington and Portland."

Oregon continues to heal from a few injuries. Tom Greider is coming off a bad ankle that last weekend had him, as Summers describes, "limping all through a match." Summers also took time to single out the play of Childers, and said "he has really played fine tennis lately and several of the opposing coaches have mentioned it."
