

The Best Receiver under $300 Priced UNDER $200

HARMAN/KARDON 430 AM/FM RECEIVER

The Harmon-Kardon 430 is the best sounding receiver under $300 on the market today. Since its introduction it's been our best selling receiver in this price range. Twin power supplies and wide-band frequency response are responsible. The result is the best square wave response of any receiver on the market; one of the best indicators of performance because it measures the ability of an amplifier to handle musical wave forms and not just test tones.

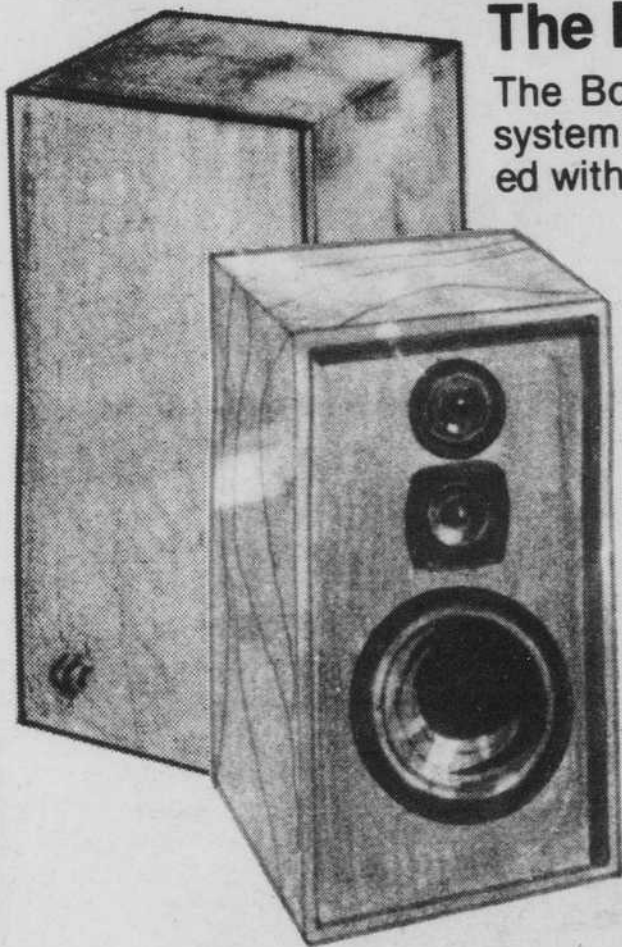

The new list price on the HK 430 as of June 1, 1978, is $299.95.

Bolivar Speaker Works
GREAT FOR THE PRICE OF GOOD.

The Bolivar 18

The Bolivar 18 is a great three-way system for a price normally associated with a good two-way system. The source of its good performance lies in its very sophisticated crossover, the most important component in any loudspeaker. The result is a great three-way system and not just three loudspeakers in an enclosure.

At our special sale price, the Bolivar 18 is our best "best buy".

Technics SL-220 Ortofon FF 15 E MK11

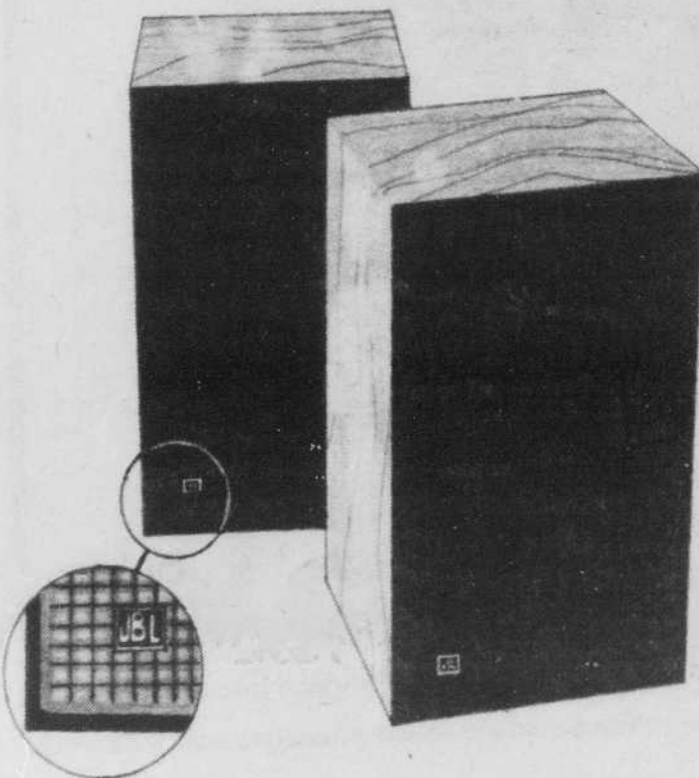

Technics has been the established leader in turntable technology for several years now. They introduced the SL-220 less than a month ago. It supercedes the SL-23 to become their new, least expensive turntable. The SL-220 features new styling that allows operation of its controls without lifting the dustcover. Technics has also refined even further their servo controlled D.C. motor (Frequency Generator); the innovation that made the SL-23 one of the best selling turntables ever.

We've furnished the SL-220 with the new Ortofon FF 15 E MK11 cartridge. It's the more compliant version of the cartridge we recommended on the previous page.

Or, Step up to the JBL L-100's

The L-100 is JBL's best known loudspeaker. It's the home version of the JBL professional studio monitor. It's also the most popular bookshelf speaker ever made.

Should you decide to go the system route, the JBL L-100's would match very well with the HK 430 and the Technics SL-220.

As A System . . .

(HK 430, Bolivar 18's, Technics SL-220)

No Weak Links

You could spend twice as much for a system and still justify using any one of our "best buy" components in it. This gives you a lot of flexibility if you want to upgrade any part of this system later. As a matter of fact, we'd be willing to bet that a lot of people spend twice as much for systems and don't get as much as our "best buy" package has to offer.
