

Govt. guide gets grant

The University has received a $36,000 grant from the Local Governmental Personnel Institute in Salem to publish a "Guide to Local Government in Oregon."

The project, scheduled for completion in June of 1979, is coordinated by Kenneth Tollenaar, director of the UO's Bureau of Governmental Research and Service.

The guide, to be printed in loose-leaf form to permit easy updating, is intended to be a reference for new city councilors and county commissioners trying to familiarize themselves with local government systems and processes. It will also serve members of local boards, commissions and advisory groups and state legislators acting on local government matters.

The project is sponsored by the League of Oregon Cities and the Association of Oregon Counties. A number of local government officials are aiding the project.

Fish receives fellowship

Michael Fish, head of the University Chinese and Japanese dept. is one of three U.S. scholars selected by the American Council of Learned Societies to receive a Mellon Fellowship for advanced language study next year in East Asia.

Fish, 35, will leave Eugene in early September for a year in Taiwan. He plans to study modern Chinese languages and work on a book about 9th Century Chinese poet "Tumu."

The fellowships, which include a $15,000 grant from the Andrew Mellon Foundation, are given jointly by the American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS) and the Social Science Research Council. The ACLS is headquartered in New York City and is a non-profit federation made up of 42 national scholarly associations. The Social Science Research Council, also based in New York City, is a non-profit corporation dedicated to the advance of social science research.

Proposed rules available

The University has placed copies of a proposed administrative rule on file for public inspection at several campus locations. The rule will establish new special fees, fines, penalties and service charges for the 1978-1979 fiscal year.

The new fees are scheduled to take effect July 1.

Copies of the proposed rule are available for inspection from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. weekdays at the President's office, Room 110 Johnson Hall, the ASUO offices in Suite 4, Erb Memorial Union, Room 121, Susan Campbell Hall, Room 148, Oregon Hall and at the Catalog Information Service desk, main floor, University library.

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments on the proposed rule to Ray Hawk, vice president for administration and finance, Room 110, Johnson Hall by July 1.

Not punks

In an article about a suspended music performance on the EMU lawn in last week's Emerald it seems we got our genres crossed. Though the Hotz make a lot of noise, they resent being called a punk rock group. Just rock is more accurate, they say.

Still time to interview for positions

Several placement interviews are still open, according to Neil Murray, director of the University career planning and placement service.

Interview sign-up sheets are posted at 246 Susan Campbell Hall. Special arrangements are available for handicapped students by calling 686-3235.

Job listings for full-time and permanent positions are also posted at 246 Susan Campbell. Interested persons are encouraged to sign up today or call for more information.

SEARCH offers new class

A class offering students the chance to experience first-hand how prisons work and how they affect the people who live in them is being offered through SEARCH this summer.

The class will feature working with residents of a community work release center. "Problems and Solutions in Prison Transition" will be offered 7 to 9 Thursday evenings. For more information, contact Dawn Aronone at 485-8341.

YWCA seeks volunteer aides

Enjoy exciting trips to Heceta lighthouse; Enchanted Forest; Silverfalls; and Camp Lutherwood by helping disabled youngsters to board buses, hike, lunch and to have a fun time. Trips are scheduled on Thursdays, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The first one is July 13. For more information contact Cyndi at the Exceptional Friendship Program Office, YWCA, 686-4439.

Peanuts

by Charles M. Schulz

Grateful Dead (Continued from Page 1)

The concert stretched from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Gross receipts were around $430,000, of which the athletic department receives $40,000, probably more money than the department would make off the stadium from a season of duck football and a bullfight.

The Athletic Department likes the open concert idea, and plans to have the Beach Boys at Autzen later this summer.
