

Teacher, artist to lecture

Irene Ellis, an international Waldorf School teacher and artist, will present a workshop and talk this weekend.

The Waldorf schools attempt to develop a child's body, heart and mind, according to Lucy Howard of the Rowantree Shop and Gallery, sponsor of the events.

Ellis's talk, scheduled Friday at 7:30 p.m. at 1639 E. 19th Ave., is titled "Education Toward Creativity." A $2 donation will be solicited.

Saturday and Sunday Ellis will hold a three-session workshop titled "Experiences in the World of Color." The session costs $10 plus a fee for supplies. Pre-registration for the workshop is required. For more information call 343-9555.

Bridge artist donates money from painting

Local surveyor and part-time artist Larry Olson is donating receipts from the sale of his covered bridge sketches for a year to a special covered bridge fund.

This is an effort by Olson to promote the preservation of Lane County's wooden covered bridges. Since 19 of the 21 covered bridges in Lane County are owned and maintained by the county government, private revenues might help supplement costs incurred from such activities as maintaining, recording, or possibly relocating covered bridges.

Lane County has a higher concentration of covered bridges than any other similar sized area in the world. Olson has donated 16" by 20" prints, suitable for framing, of the following bridges: Swinglog Bridge, Horse Creek Bridge, Earnest Bridge, Goodpasture Bridge, Lowell Bridge, and Wildcat Bridge. Single prints are $3 and can be purchased at the Lane County Museum, 740 W. 13th Ave. The Museum's summer hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday and 1-5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Business seminar set

A seminar on democratic management, sponsored by the Willamette Community Design Center, is scheduled for August 3.

The seminar will address the difficulties faced by businesses and organizations that are committed to new ways of working. It will be conducted by Bill Bryan and Mark Ritchie, instructors for the San Francisco-based New School for Democratic Management.

The school provides business training based on principles of democracy in the workplaces, and encourages the formation, development and self-sustaining growth of new and on-going cooperative and collective enterprises and organizations.

Both instructors have experience working with organizations operating under structures different from the traditional hierarchical model. Bryan is the coordinator of the Northern Rockies Action Group and a member of the Montana task force on Citizen participation in government.

Ritchie is co-founder and co-director of Earthwork; an urban center for the study of land and food in San Francisco. He has worked extensively with food coops.

The seminar will be held at the Unitarian Church, 40th and Donald St. from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Interested persons should register immediately. Phone 345-2427 for more information.

Symposium job opens

The Position of Student Director for next year's Women's Symposium has been re-opened. Applications will be taken until Sept. 29 for this position, as well as for a newly created work-study assistant's position.

Persons with good organizational skills, the ability to work well under pressure and a creative woman's perspective are being sought. Minorities are encouraged to apply.

For more information contact Donna Shepard at ASUO, Suite 4 or call 686-3724.

Disabled bowlers aided

The Specialized Recreation Program of Eugene Parks and Recreation Department will make bowling ramps and push sticks available for use by handicapped individuals at University bowling lanes, Webfoot Lanes, and Emerald Bowling Lanes beginning the week of July 17.

The special equipment, which was built by the Eugene Parks and Recreation Department maintenance division, is for use by people with limited arm control. The ramps are designed especially for bowlers in wheelchairs, and the push sticks are for bowlers who can stand. These aides will be available free at all times that the lanes are open to the public.

For additional information contact Ruth Egger at 687-5311.

By popular demand, we've extended our Monday special to four days per week, Monday-Thursday!

SPAGHETTI DINNER

$2.95 Adults
$1.45 Children Under 10

With your choice of meat sauce, tomato sauce, or mushroom sauce. Meal includes soup or salad and bread sticks.

Family Style Lunch & Dinner

Reservations recommended for parties of six or more.

726-1844
3111 Gateway St., off I-5 at Belt Line Exit

the Hair Loft for Men and Women

Cool and Carefree Styles for Summer

The weather in Eugene may not always be predictable but a carefree style from the Hairloft assures you you'll look your best—rain or shine—all summer long!

686-1496 2833 Willamette (across from the Willamette Plaza)
485-1202 1239 Alder (across from Sacred Heart)
484-2565 1461 E. 19th (next door to the Grant Grinder)

GUESS WHAT!?! at The Id

All Westminster Gold/Melodiya

$2.29 (this week only)

Inflation fighting Gold classics include:
Beethoven Featuring: Emil Gilels
Bach Julian Bream
Brahms Sy Richter
Mozart John Williams
Chopin

Great classics at a price you can afford

The Id New Art Reproductions & Tapestries!
Your campus book and record shop
1340 Alder

New catalog now available

The 1978-79 general catalog, the University of Oregon Bulletin, is now available for $2 at the Bookstore and at the EMU Main Desk.

The new catalog includes several changes in the organization of information and a full-color cover, which students expressed as a preference in an opinion survey. The 1978-79 catalog was printed with private funds donated to the University through the University Development Fund.

briefs

MEETINGS

The Oregon Genealogical Society will meet Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at 500 E. 4th Ave. in the Eugene Water and Electric Board cafeteria.

A Springfield citizen's committee on evolution and creation will meet tonight at 7:30 to choose a name and officers, discuss plans for action, and view a film. Organizer Norman Fox says both creationists and evolutionists are welcome to attend. Call 746-7430 for more information.

LECTURES

New York magazine music critic Alan Rich will speak at 10 this morning and will be available for questions at a public reception after his talk in Beall Hall. Rich is the author of several books on music and former chief music critic for the New York Herald Tribune.

A presentation on the treasures of Tutankhamun will be given at 12 noon on Wednesday in the Eugene Public Library. A filmstrip will precede the talk, to be given by Frances Stern.

Isolation of the mRNA and gene for the large sub-unit of Ribulose Biphosphate Carboxylase from Chlamydomonas will be the subject of a lecture given by University of California biologist Stanton Galvin, at 4:30 p.m. in Room 331 Science today.

Jacob Weiner will give his final Ph.D. oral, "Studies on Interference in Annual Plants" today at 2:30 in Room 317 Science. Tea will be at 2:15 outside Room 317.

RECITALS

Summer music festival harpsichordist Nina Johnson and festival violinist Harold Byers will give the first of two free recitals Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in Room 198, Music.

JOB OPENINGS

Part and full time positions are available in a number of areas. For referral, contact the University Job Service office, Room 262, Oregon Hall or phone 686-3239.

Some of the jobs now available include: legal secretary, typists and bookkeepers for various full and part time positions, diesel mechanic, telephone interviewers, radio announcer, service station attendants, apartment managers, and delivery truck drivers.

MISCELLANEOUS

Eugene Parks and Recreation Department is now taking reservations for children and adults in the "August at Amazon" group recreation programs. Fees and times vary. For information, phone the Amazon Center at 687-5373.

Several area groups need volunteers. To find out what the needs are, and how you can help, contact the Voluntary Action Center, 342-4451, or drop in at 1134 Ferry St.

Tickets are available for the July and September King Tut tours. Interested persons should contact Frances Stern at 344-1259.

CLASSES

This month's session of Natural Birth Control classes will be held 7:30 p.m. at White Bird on July 19. Course covers instruction in the Ovulation Method as well as use of the basal thermometer. Materials to chart your cycle and a monthly followup class are included. Call 342-8255 or 688-2026 to pre-register.

Oregon Daily Emerald

The Oregon Daily Emerald is published Tuesdays and Thursdays, during summer term and weekdays during the academic year, except during exam week and vacations, by the Oregon Daily Emerald Publishing Co., Inc. at the University of Oregon, Eugene, OR, 97403.

The Oregon Daily Emerald operates independently of the University with offices on the third floor of the Erb Memorial Union and is a member of the Associated Press.

Emerald subscriptions are $7 per term and $20 per year.

Editor	Tom Wolfe	Night Editor	Kathleen Monje
Managing Editor/News Editor	Melody Ward	Production Manager	Betsy Bodine
Graphics Editor	Greg Gawlowski	Advertising Manager	Carl Bryant
Associate Editors:		Controller	Jean Ownbey
State systems, departments and schools	Mary Foran	News and Editorial	686-5511
Politics and Community	Kevin Harden	Display Advertising and Business	686-3712
Features, ASUO	Jock Hatfield	Classified Advertising	686-4343
Editorial Page	Glen Gibbons	Production	686-4381