The Graduate History Club — only for graduate students, the GHC has representatives on most of the major history department committees, according to secretary-treasurer Ann Steffenson.

The club is smaller than in the past because there are fewer graduate students. When Stefenson entered the University in

Enerson says GSPSA has representatives on all the department's committees, though on some the students have less power, as business often entails

The organization has helped establish several things new to CEPM. One is a pamphlet for stu-
