

Classes on home birth

The Association for Childbirth at Home, Int. is offering a series of six classes for couples preparing to have their babies born at home, beginning Oct. 31, and running for six weeks.

The Association is a group of parents, interested people, and medical professionals dedicated to peoples' rights to decide where they will give birth.

The series is open to prospective parents, individuals and professionals interested in childbirth at home, and there is a $55 fee for the course. This fee includes the price of their manual Giving Birth at Home, and supplies for the class.

Couples wishing more information should contact Paul or Donna Ruscher at (503) 752-3766. For couples who live a long distance from Corvallis, or who wish to finish classes in a shorter period of time, Saturday sessions with double classes will be given starting Oct. 28, at 10 a.m.

Greyhound Rx. The cure for college blahs.

It's a feeling that slowly descends upon you. The exams, the pop tests, the required reading, the hours at the library, the thesis — they won't go away.

But you can. This weekend, take off, say hello to your friends, see the sights, have a great time. You'll arrive with money in your pocket because your Greyhound trip doesn't take that much out of it.

If you're feeling tired, depressed and exhausted, grab a Greyhound and split. It's a sure cure for the blahs.

Grants open for women

Grants of $4,000 to women for graduate study and research in aerospace related sciences and engineering are being announced by Zonta International, service organization of executive women in business and the professions.

The Amelia Earhart Fellowships, established in 1938 as a memorial to Zonta's famed aviation pioneer member, are offered annually. A bachelor of science degree preparatory for graduate work in a field related to aerospace sciences or engineering; evidence of exceptional ability and potential; and commendable character are required. Awards are made to women entering or continuing a full-time graduate program who have been accepted by an institution offering accredited courses in the applicant's area of study.

The number of fellowships awarded each year is determined by the number of highly qualified candidates.

Applications for Fellowship for the 1979-80 academic year must be completed and submitted before Jan. 1, 1979.

Amelia Earhart Fellowships, supported by business executives and professional women who are members of more than 750 Zonta clubs in 46 countries, encouraged the first women aeronautical engineers and space scientists.

They are now preparing personnel for the NASA Space Shuttle program and all its exigencies and anticipating the probing of the universe.

Fellowship Awards application forms may be requested by students, or by instructors wishing to recommend students, by contacting Zonta International, 59 East Van Buren St., Chicago, Illinois 60605.

Forensics team begins season

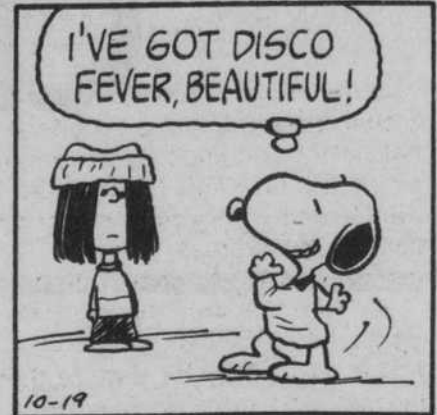

The University's Forensics team will participate in its first speech tournament of the year this weekend at Lewis and Clark College.

Four other tournaments have been planned for fall term including meets at Gonzaga University, the University of San Francisco, Pacific University, and the University of Oregon College Tournament, Nov. 10-12.

More than 35 students are involved in the program. Students participate in events ranging from debate to oral interpretation of literature.

Students interested in the program should contact Paul Gaske or John Rindo, the student director, at 686-4171.
