

Ducks' next assignment: San Jose State

The Oregon women's field hockey team warmed up for tomorrow's game with nationally ranked San Jose State by crushing Oregon College of Education 9-0 at Autzen Stadium Tuesday night.

Karen Coster punched through three goals and freshman Ronnie Dellamotta added her eighth and ninth goals of the season to pace the Ducks' lopsided victory. Six Oregon players scored and the team as a whole outshot OCE 37-0 as Oregon raised its season record to 8-1-1 and league mark to 6-0.

Tomorrow afternoon's Oregon-San Jose State match pits two of the strongest women's collegiate field hockey programs on the West Coast. San Jose State, undefeated this year with an 8-0 season record, finished fourth at last year's national tournament.

"I was very pleased with the way we passed the ball," commented Oregon coach Nancy Plantz. "We beat them with speed and superior stickwork."

Forward Stacy Allman opened the game with a quick goal on a rush to the net from the right side; Belinda Stillwell then weaved through three OCE defenders for another goal, and Dellamotta tallied twice to increase Oregon's margin to 4-0. Karen Cosper closed out the Ducks' first half barrage with a shot from the left side.

Oregon kept OCE bottled up on defense throughout all of the second half, while three players — Cosper, Nancy Pedrotti and Sue Minkoma — were adding a goal each to build Oregon's lead to 8-0. Cosper closed out the Ducks' scoring binge with a sizzling slapshot from 15 yards out.

Plantz applauded Allman, Dellamotta and Minkoma for strong games (all are freshmen), and singled out junior Stillwell and Cosper, a transfer from Oregon State, for their fine performances.

Against San Jose State the Ducks will be facing a team that has scored 38 times this year while allowing a single goal.

The Spartans feature a 27-year-old South African who plays center-defense and is the major reason San Jose State has gained national recognition, according to Plantz.

"They beat two eastern teams — Connecticut and Delaware — at last year's national," recalled Plantz. "They are a really good team."

Friday could be a clear indicator of how close to that goal Oregon has come.

Saturday the Ducks play host to Idaho at 9:30 a.m. and the Portland Roadrunners at 12:30 p.m. in the Oregon Invitational at Autzen Stadium.

It's different, it's definitely better. Our $899 system introduces you to "The Magneplanar Experience."

"Accuracy," "wide-range," "precise," are all words used to describe speaker systems. But now, for the first time in a system under $1400, we can use another word... "dimension." It's the ability to position the music not only left to right, but also in depth, front to back. And it is a quality in which the Magneplanar speaker systems have no equal.

Featured in our $899 music system is the Magneplanar MG-1 speaker system. Only one-eighth of an inch thick, they may be termed revolutionary. The music they produce can only be described as breathtaking. And for you to believe this you must hear them.

The concept of our $899 music system was to offer a very affordable, extremely high quality music system. So to complement the Magneplanar MG-1s we chose the Yamaha CR-420 receiver and the Yamaha YP-211 turntable.

The Yamaha CR-420 is a full featured, moderately powered AM/FM stereo receiver. The reason we chose it is that it offers the lowest distortion in its power range, a feature very important with exacting speakers like the Magneplanars.

For a similar reason we chose the Yamaha YP-211 turntable, not because of the many convenience features it has, but because of our requirements for very high performance.

We feel this is a level of performance that has never before been available at anywhere near this price. A quality of performance that a few years ago was not available at any price. You'll not listen to our $899 music system. You'll experience it.
