

oregon daily emerald

Vol. 80, No. 69

Eugene, Oregon 97403

Monday, December 11, 1978

Spent shopper today

'Tis the season to be jolly, the traditional tune assures us, but for frustrated shopper and graduate student Cathy Emery, 'tis also the season to be tired. University inmates face a double dose of last-minute searches for facts and special gifts this week.

In the beginning was the word... and we haven't heard the end of it yet. Our verbatim report on a post-game locker-room ditty provoked controversy. On Page 4, the Emerald responds.

Jamil has been delving into other people's psyches for years now - sometimes successfully and sometimes not. More on Page 10.

As per usual for the end of fall term, disgruntled dormies are using a variety of methods to rid themselves of their dorm contracts. See Page 13.

The School of Journalism has one part-time woman professor to date, but that's not for lack of effort on the school's part, according to Dean Galem Ranick. See Page 21.