

Kennedy rips opponents of nuclear pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy said Tuesday that critics of an arms control agreement with the Soviets "undermine our national security by advocating a nuclear arms race instead of nuclear arms control."

In a speech to the annual meeting of the Arms Control Association, the Massachusetts Democrat lashed out at what he called "partisan voices" that "do our nation a grave disservice."

"They exaggerate the real problems which we face and they fail to offer adequate alternatives," he said. "They sell America short."

Kennedy criticized Dr. Henry A. Kissinger as one of those who "withhold their support despite their participation in the long and difficult negotiating process."

Kennedy's speech came hours after President Carter, in an address in Atlanta, made a strong appeal for support of the SALT agreement he said was nearly completed.
