

English summer study set

Susquehanna University will conduct its eighth biennial summer study program at Oxford University in England during the summer of 1979. Applications are now being accepted.

"Susquehanna at Oxford" is a program of study in British history, culture, and society with relevant travel and excursions in England. Admission is open to undergraduates from Susquehanna and other colleges, secondary school teachers, recent college graduates seeking enrichment, or any seriously interested adult.

The group is scheduled to arrive in London on June 21 for a week of tours related to the academic program, theatres, concerts, sightseeing and leisure time. A four-day excursion to Edinburgh, Scotland, is also planned.

Students will then spend five weeks in residence in the historic Durham Quadrangle at University College, the oldest of Oxford's colleges, founded in 1249.

Participants enroll in two courses, including either British History, Politics and Society: 1870 to the Present or British Literature: 1870 to the Present. These two courses are part of Oxford University's regular summer school program, with lectures by various British scholars and public figures. "Susquehanna at Oxford" students also attend bi-weekly seminars led by S.U. faculty members.

School reformers available

Sara Murphy and Mary Gunter, State Facilitators from Arkansas, will be on campus as guests of the Doctoral Student's Organization Thursday and Friday. Their job involves working with local school administrators to adopt and implement new educational programs.

Murphy and Gunter will be available in the Doctoral Student's Commons from 10 a.m. to noon to talk to those who are interested in a practitioner approach to school change.

Drinking program offers education in alcohol use

Drinking Decisions, a unique alcohol education program, will hold a free orientation program at 6 p.m., Thursday at Lane Community College Downtown Center, 1059 Willamette St.

Drinking Decisions offers a 10-week class series which will enable a person to evaluate his own level of alcohol use. Self-control techniques, methods of measuring individual blood alcohol levels in the body, and other methods of controlling drinking will be taught.

Drinking Decisions is a non-profit service program designed to prevent alcohol abuse and is open to the general public. Persons who must meet court requirements for alcohol education are also welcome.

For further information, call Drinking Decisions, Inc. at 484-9274.

Animator introduces work

Italian film animator Bruno Bozzetto will present segments of his work in film and short subjects and conclude with a discussion period today in the EMU Ballroom, time to be posted.

Bozzetto's presentation will include clips from "Opera," a madly paced spoof on the musical genre, "Self-Service," a metaphoric message mixing mankind and mosquitoes, and "Allegro non Troppo" (fast, but not too much), his critically acclaimed parody of "Fantasia."

Bozzetto controls one of the biggest animation studios in Europe with production facilities operating in Milan, Italy. His studio produces animated features, animated and live action shorts and animated commercials for television. Bozzetto has produced six features, 25 short films and six books based on his films.

His presentation is sponsored by the EMU Cultural Forum and is free.
