GTF health shares arrive peanuts®

Checks for shares of the $25,000 GTFF Health Fund are available and can be picked up at the Requisitions desk in Oregon Hall.

All applicants should receive a post card in the next few days notifying them that their checks are available or that their money is being held in trust pending proper documentation.

GTFs with questions may call the GTFF office at 344-0832 between noon and 4 p.m.

Lost bikes can be found

University students and staff members whose bicycles have been lost or stolen may be able to recover them through a single visit.

Campus Security has about 26 bikes waiting to be returned to their owners, according to Properties Officer Dennis Kelly.

For more information, or to check on a lost bicycle, call 686-5444.

Y organizes adult cyclists

The Eugene Family YMCA will kickoff the bike season with an organizational meeting for adults interested in biking.

The meeting will be held Tuesday evening at 7 at the YMCA, 2055 Patterson St.

Interested adults should pre-register and pay fees in advance, if possible. The fee for Y members is $5, for non-members it is $15. Social events, bike trips and educational workshops are some of the events to be planned. For more information, call 686-YMCA.

Corrections, amplifications

Douglas Hunter, assistant regional manager of Adult and Family Services, says that even if the new food stamp rules were changed again now, it would probably be another year before the changes were felt in the Eugene-Springfield area.

His opinion was misstated in a photo caption Friday.

Entry test set for J250

The Cooperative English Test, which students must pass before they can enroll in the School of Journalism's Journalistic Writing Course, will be given Wednesday at 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. in 358 Susan Campbell Hall. Additionally the test will be given four more times this term, twice on April 25 and twice on May 15.

A typing proficiency test, which must be passed before students may enroll in the course, will be given Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in 218 Allen. That test will be repeated on April 25 and May 16.

Any student intending to take Journalistic Writing next fall must take the two tests this term, according to Galen Rarick, dean of the School of Journalism.
