Piano duo to perform

Two internationally acclaimed pianists, Argentinian Eduardo Delgado and American Daniel Pollack, will perform in a duo recital in Beall Hall Sunday.

Delgado's program will include "Prelude and Fugue in A Minor" by Bach, transcribed by Liszt; "Variations Serieuses, Op. 54," by Mendelssohn; "The Maid and the Nightingale" and Goyescas, by Granados; and "Sonata" by Ginastera.

Pollack will play "Funerailles" and "Un Sospiro" etude in D flat, both by Liszt, and Chopin's "Polonaise-Fantasia, Op. 61," and "Scherzo in C-sharp Minor, Op. 39."

Tickets for the concert are $3.50 general admission and $2.50 for students and senior citizens, and will be sold at the door only. The program will begin at 8 p.m.

Delgado and Pollack will be at the University to conduct a master class in advanced piano interpretation and techniques from June 25-29.

Changes focus of group

A new group is being formed at the University to explore the meaning of the life transitions which occur between ages 28 and 32. Group leader Peter Moulton says this is often a time of reconsidering goals and values and a time of making decisions and commitments, or "deciding what I'll be for the rest of my life." The result of these transitions is often a return to school, setting aside a professional career to raise children, to change careers or change partners.

The group plans to examine the personal, social, cultural and mythological dimensions of these changes. An increasing interest in the stages of adult life is reflected in recent books by Erickson, Levinson, Rupert and Sheehy, portions of which will be discussed.

Moulton is a doctoral student in counseling psychology. At 41, he is currently in transition from a career in computer science, having been a member of the University's computer science faculty since 1971, into counseling.

The group will be limited to ten and is planned to include both men and women. An organizational meeting is scheduled for 4 p.m. today at the Counseling Center in Susan Campbell Hall. Moulton can be reached at 484-0572 (home), at the Counseling Center, 686-3227, or the Computer Science Dept., 686-4392.

ERIC data system shown Friday

A demonstration of computer access to the 360,000 journal articles and documents in the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC) data base will be given during a brief introduction to the system Friday from 9 to 11 a.m. in Studio B of the University Library Instructional Media Center.

The ERIC data base, which can be searched by printed indexes as well as by computer, contains information of interest to all individuals in educational and education-related fields. The introduction to the system is co-sponsored by the education-psychology department of the library (which houses the ERIC collection on campus) and by the ERIC Clearinghouse on Educational Management.

For more information, contact Rose Marie Service, 686-3074.

The Erb Memorial Union Main Desk Store cashes checks as a service for students, faculty and staff of the University of Oregon. Students must present a current certificate of registration and a plastic identification card with picture; faculty/staff must present their plastic identification card with picture and current validation sticker.
