Civil War

in 1979 the Ducks are looking for their first winning season in nine years. But more important to Oregon coach Rich Brooks is the fact that the Ducks are riding a four-game winning streak versus the Beavers. A win Saturday would give Oregon its longest victory string ever.

"That's a significant thing for us," says Brooks.

"It means that our seniors will never have lost to Oregon State."

On the other hand, the Beavers have their own impetus for victory. The hopes of salvaging a 2-8 season would be one facet. Fertig's last game could be another.

"They (Oregon State) will be higher than any of the games they've played this year," says Brooks.

"There could be an awful lot of emotion in this game," agrees Casanova. "Ninety percent of the (Oregon State) kids really like Fertig. He could make an emotional pre-game talk and really affect them."

So, no matter who you talk to, Saturday's Civil War promises to be a real barnburner.
