

Former mayor will lecture

Former Eugene Mayor Lester Anderson will speak Wednesday about his experiences with an expedition to the top of K-2, the second highest mountain in the world.

Anderson will be speaking at the annual dinner meeting of the Friends of the University Library in the Gerlinger Lounge at 6:30 p.m.

The cost is $11 per person. For ticket and other information call 686-3056.

Whitewater week starts Tuesday

Whitewater rafting and kayaking will be the topic of a series of events this week at the University.

The Outdoor program is sponsoring the events, and the series starts at 7 p.m. on Tuesday with a general session discussing the rafting co-op at the program and the other whitewater options available in the community.

Persons interested in initiated cooperative river trips this season should attend this session to learn how the system works. "Dare the Wildest River," a documentary film on the Grand Canyon of Colorado, will be shown at this time. Also, a variety of rafts will be on display.

Personal and group rafting will be discussed on Wednesday, while whitewater safety and raft repair will be covered Thursday. All meetings are free, open to the public and will be held at 7 p.m. in the Outdoor Program Room in the basement of the EMU. Call 686-4365 for more information.

Committee seeks GTF nominations

Two $500 awards for distinguished teaching by Graduate Teaching Fellows will be presented at the Spring Commencement, June 8.

According to Warren Brown, associate dean of the Graduate School, these awards have been established by the University in cooperation with the Mortar Board organization, and the desire is to give recognition to excellence in teaching and academic guidance. Brown says, all GTFs involved in classroom or laboratory teaching are eligible for nomination.

A selection committee is now seeking nominations, Brown says, adding these must be in writing and should indicate the reasons for nomination. All nominations must include a signature, and it is possible for an individual to nominate more than one GTF.

All nominations should be sent to the Graduate School, Room 125 Chapman Hall, no later than May 1, 1980.
