Graduate fellowships are for students in graduate programs at all levels. These fellowships cannot generally be used for undergraduate study, postdoctoral study, or for what is called "postbaccalaureate study"; i.e., for study after the bachelor's degree but not in a graduate program. Students working on a second bachelor's degree are also usually not eligible. Please note that some of these fellowship programs have both graduate and postdoctoral components.

American Scandinavian Foundation, 127 E. 73rd St., New York, NY 10021. A variety of programs are available for study in the Scandinavian countries. Deadline is Nov. 1, 1980.

Minority Graduate Fellowships, Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20018. National Science Foundation graduate fellowships for Blacks, American Indians, Alaskan Natives, Chicanos and Puerto Ricans. Candidates must be in the sciences or social sciences. Deadline is Nov. 26, 1980.

Graduate Research Fellowship Program, National Criminal Justice Reference Service, Box 6000, Rockville, Md. 20850. Fellowships will awarded to doctoral candidates engaged in a dissertation in the area of criminal justice. Deadline is Nov. 1, 1980.

Social Science Research Council, 1755 Massachusetts Ave. N.W., Suite 410, Washington, D.C. 20036. A variety of programs in the social sciences are offered for the doctoral dissertation and postdoctoral research to study abroad. Deadline is Nov. 1, 1980, and Dec. 1, 1980, depending on the program.

Postdoctoral Fellowships support scholars after the completion of the doctoral degree. For most of these fellowships, candidates are eligible for five years after receiving the terminal degree. Please note that some of these programs have both a postdoctoral and dissertation, graduate, postdoctoral component.

Postdoctoral Fellowships in Science, The Fellowships Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20018. National Science Foundation postdoctoral fellowships for scientists and social scientists. Deadline is Nov. 3, 1980.

Dumbarton Oaks Fellowships, 1703 32nd St. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20007. Fellowships for both the dissertation and postdoctoral studies in Byzantine studies, pre-Columbian studies, and the history of landscape architecture. Deadline is Nov. 15, 1980.

For more information on any of the above programs call Fran Barken at ext. 5132 or stop by the graduate school office at 125 Chapman Hall.
