Duck wrestlers finish sweep over Beavers

Oregon's sixth-ranked wrestling team completed a three-meet sweep of Oregon State this year with a 24-12 win Friday in Corvallis.

The Ducks won the first three matches to jump to a 10-0 lead. The Beaver's Mike Bauer defeated Bill Nugent, 6-5, to get Oregon State on the scoreboard. But then the Ducks' Barry Boyles scored a 8-6 upset over OSU's seventh-ranked Brad Swartz.

Jeff Stuebing beat Dale Krzmarzick, 15-2, in the 167-pound match to extend Oregon's lead to 18-6. But in the next match, Marty Ryan pinned the Ducks' Mike Miller at 7:00 to cut Oregon's lead to 18-12.

Oregon sealed the win, however, with wins by Ryan Kelly and Dan Cook.

The victory, Oregon's last dual meet of the season, raised the team's meet record to 22-3. Oregon State is now 25-10.

Oregon has now won the last five meets over OSU. The Beavers lead the series 44-11. Before Oregon's streak began, OSU had won nine straight and 38 of the last 41.

Oregon's next action will be the Pacific-10 Conference championships in Corvallis on March 1-2.

Injuries topple gymnasts as Huskies down Ducks

With three top all-arounders forced out by injuries, Oregon's women's gymnastics team fell 140.05 to 135.65 to the University of Washington in Seattle Saturday.

Friday the Ducks, 9-3 this season, easily defeated Seattle Pacific 134.40 to 125.60.

Against the Huskies, Oregon coach Henriette Heiny was still pleased despite the Ducks' misfortune.

"Generally we had a pretty good meet considering the people who were able to compete," she said. "But it was an unhappy afternoon with three of our top all-arounders being hurt early in the meet."

The Ducks' Chris Krueger and Dawn Haberland had to withdraw after only one event and freshman Maureen Nolan twisted her knee warming up for the floor exercises and was unable to compete in that event and the beam.

Heiny found a positive note in the performance of junior Sara Gustafson and freshman Holly Holmes. Each recorded their highest all-around scores of the season (34.7 and 34.4, respectively).

Soccer squad takes tourney

Oregon's women's soccer won all four of its games to win the Humboldt Invitational last weekend at Humboldt State.

The team beat University of the Pacific, UC-Santa Barbara, Humboldt State and Chico State on the way to the title.
