THE RETURN OF THE SECAUSCUS 7

Rarely does an independent American film receive such attention and praise as Secaucus 7, making just about every "10 best" film list of 1980 in the nation. In his directional debut, 30-year-old John Sayles has fashioned a highly personal, perfectly realized film about the reunion of old friends, former political activists of the 60's who are now turning 30. They reminisce, play together, make love, talk about making love, re-define their relationships and try to come to grips with the future while at the same time holding on to their experiences of the past. The naturalness of cast is irresistible.
Make way to discover these important new talents.

"10"

A poignant sex farce about 42 year old George Webber, a successful songwriter at the pinnacle of his career with a warm, loving relationship with an attractive, intelligent woman. But Geory somehow finds his life incomplete. That is, until he spots the woman of his fantasies, an 11 out of a possible 10. George, socked to the teeth on dental painkillers, pursue her to Mexico while she is on her honey-moon. And amazingly, he comes close in achieving his wildest dream.
Dudley Moore is superbly funny as the musician in search of his ultimate fantasy.

W.C. FIELD'S in

IT'S A GIFT

Considered by many to be Fields' finest movie, IT'S A GIFT is his definitive demolition of small-town America. Harold Bissonette (Fields) is the beleaguered Common Man nursing his dreams against a badgering family, defending his grocery store domain from babies and blind men and traveling cross-county to claim a dustbowl of and orange grove. Showing with W.C. is a film by his friend Mae West in

I'M NO ANGEL

Mae plays Tira the lion-tamer, the star attraction of a carry side show. One of the film's highlights is when she tells Cary Grant to "Come up and see me sometime."
