GATES OF HEAVEN

In his first feature Errol Morris set out to film a minor local news item: the grounds of a pet cemetery were being sold for a housing project, and its occupants were to be exhumed and moved, the experience proved to be traumatic for pet owners and cemetery entrepreneurs alike. What emerges is an often sad, but usually hilarious meditation on the American cult, its myths and obsessions about love, life and death.

Plus the short film

WERNER HERZOG EATS HIS SHOE

Herzog honors a vow he made to Errol Morris that he would eat his shoe if Morris actually made one of the films he'd talked about. Morris did (Gates of Heaven) and Herzog, true to his word, returned to Berkeley to consume of his desert boots in classic, obsessive Herzog style. Complete showings of both films 7:30 & 9:30

American filmmaking at its best

APOCALYPSE NOW

Winner of 3 Academy Awards, APOCALYPSE NOW is the long-awaited film directed by Francis Ford Coppola (THE GODFATHER). From the opening shot - a sweeping pan across the napalm jungle to its close - APOCALYPSE is the consummate statement about the horror, the madness, and the moral dilemma that was Vietnam. Martin Sheen is Captain Willard, who is sent on a delicate secret mission up river to kill Colonel Kurtz (Marlon Brando). Kurtz is an American officer who has set himself up as a god among the natives and is running the war his own way. The films is a record of Willard's journey up the river into madness and his final confrontation with the man that represents all the paradoxes of the brutal war. APOCALYPSE NOW is among the most talked about films of all time and one of the most extraordinary and intense films ever created.
