

Senate confirms Crowell as forest chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate easily confirmed John Crowell Jr. to oversee the nation's forest system, the majority apparently giving little credence to allegations he was involved in a timber antitrust case.

The 72-25 vote Wednesday ended weeks of controversy over whether Crowell played an active role in alleged antitrust activities while general counsel to one of the nation's leading timber producers.

"The evidence does not support these claims," Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., said of the case for antitrust involvement laid out earlier by Crowell's critics, led by Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass.

"Sen. Kennedy had no facts," Helms charged. "All he had was a chart, and he wove a tapestry of innuendo and I think that's unworthy of a senator."

The debate centered on a recent federal court finding that Ketchikan Pulp Co. conspired to fix prices and control timber sales in Alaska's Tongass National Forest. Ketchikan is a subsidiary of Louisiana Pacific Corp., the Portland-based firm Crowell was working for as general counsel during the time of the alleged antitrust actions. Crowell lives in Lake Oswego.

Louisiana Pacific is the nation's second leading timber producer and the largest buyer of publicly-owned timber.

"In at least seven instances, it appears that Mr. Crowell was implicated in the violations," Kennedy charged. "It is clear that Mr. Crowell was aware of and involved in collusive communications by the defendants in the case; one memo even indicates that Mr. Crowell was personally directing the activities of an employee of a separate defendant in the case.

"That evidence stands unrefuted," Kennedy continued. "When I challenged the proponents of Mr. Crowell all I heard was silence. They have yet to explain away these memoranda."

In the wake of the federal court decision in the civil antitrust case, the Forest Service has suspended all timber sales in Tongass pending a full investigation. It could take punitive action against Ketchikan.

Crowell, who has denied any involvement in the antitrust actions, has already said he will take no part in government decisions involving Louisiana Pacific or its subsidiaries.

U. of O. students from Medford, Roseburg, Bend, Pendleton, and Newport:

join in the legislative lobbying effort for higher education. The House Committee on Revenue is going on a field trip to your town to discuss the Governor's Tax Program. A good turnout of students at these hearings will demonstrate that we do care. If you will be home for the weekend or can possibly make it, please try to attend one of these hearings and support higher education. The schedule is as follows:

- May 21 Medford Armory 1:00 P.M.
- May 21 Roseburg Armory 7:00 P.M.
- May 22 Central Oregon Community College 1:00 P.M.
- May 22 Blue Mt. Community College 7:00 P.M.
- May 23 Newport Armory 1:00 P.M.
