Mothers give scholarships

Six University students will receive scholarships from the University Mothers' Club next year. The students were honored May 28 during the organization's annual spring luncheon.

First-year law student Patricia Wlodarczyk will receive the Golda Parker Wickham Award. The full tuition scholarship recognizes scholastic achievement, leadership, service to the University or community and financial need. Wickham was dean of women from 1944-70.

Five other students received $500 University

Mothers' Scholarships based on academic achievement and financial need. They are sophomore journalism student Tom Danowski, junior undeclared Perrin Kerns, sophomore telecommunication major Janet Richards, senior biology major Craig Baumeister and second-year law student Mark Block.

Besides the scholarships, the Mothers' Club sponsors community efforts for the Friends of the Library and Friends of the Art Museum and donated money to refurbish Gerlinger Alumni Lounge and for women's athletics.
