

Golfers finish 27th at NCAA

Oregon's men's golf team finished out of the running at the NCAA national tournament as the Ducks failed to survive the 16-team cut for the final round of competition.

Brigham Young University took the team title by two strokes over Oral Roberts, 1,161 to 1,163. Houston, Oklahoma State and Arizona State University followed the leaders.

Shell Joyner was the only Duck to participate in the final day of competition, but the Oregon freshman was unable to finish in the top 20.

Ron Commans of USC took advantage of defending champion JayDon Blake's troubles Saturday to claim the individual title. Commans shot a final-round 69, beating Blake of Utah State and Ed Luethke of Fresno State by a single shot.

The 69 gave Commans a 72-hole total of a one-under-par 283. Blake shot a 76 on the final round to lose a five stroke lead. Luethke had a 69.

Oregon's golf team finished the tournament in 27th place with a three-day total of 904.

"We improved our score every day, but obviously not enough," said Oregon coach Jim Ferguson. "We were only 13 strokes away from the cut — or roughly one shot per man per round."

Baseball talks continue on three different fronts

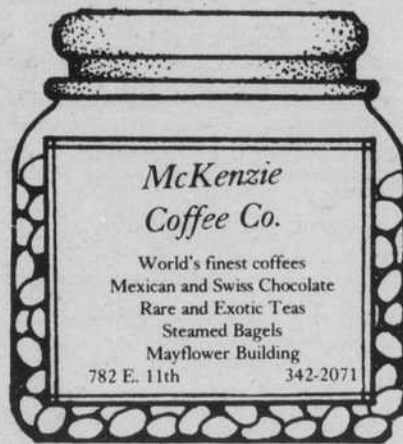

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators for the baseball owners and players return to the bargaining table today as maneuvering in the contract stalemate continues there and on two other fronts.

On Wednesday in Rochester, N.Y., U.S. District Judge Henry Werker consider an injunction request by the National Labor Relations Board, which is seeking to have the owners rescind the free-agent compensation plan they implemented last February.

The NLRB is seeking to postpone for one year the implementation of the owners' plan and the players' right to strike in response to it.

The third front is in New York, where on June 15, an administrative law judge will begin hearing the NLRB's complaint of bad-faith bargaining by the owners for failing to open their financial books to the players.

Melanie Batiste (sixth in the 200). The Ducks' 1,600 relay team of Batiste, Rhonda Massey, Lena Fritzson and Grace Bakari furnished the final points with a third-place finish in a school-record 3:34.13.

Judging by the youth of Oregon's scorers, this year's performance may only be the beginning. In addition to Warren and Harmon, Forbes, Bakari and O'Dea also are sophomores and Fritzson is a freshman.

Even the best meets have some disappointments. Karen McDonald failed to score in the discus, throwing only 143-11. Her season best was 170-11. Lexie Miller didn't make the finals of the 100 hurdles and finished out of the running in the 400 hurdles.

Both women will have other chances in other years. McDonald is a freshman, Miller a sophomore.

The AIAW meet capped another fine season for the Ducks. They compiled a 4-1 dual meet record, won the Northwest title and broke 11 school records.

Umpires rep considers legal action on Martin

NEW YORK (AP) — The head of the baseball umpires union said Sunday that American League President Lee MacPhail's disciplinary action against Billy Martin for bumping umpire Terry Cooney would determine whether any legal action is taken against the fiery Oakland manager.

Richie Phillips, executive director of the Major League Umpires Association, said, "We feel very strongly about Martin's actions. They were violent and outrageous."

Phillips said the union was contemplating legal action against Martin unless he was penalized swiftly and sufficiently by the league.
