

Ex-athletes set softball fundraiser

Former Oregon and Oregon State athletes will be going at it again in a benefit softball game June 27 in Portland before the AAA game between the Portland Beavers and the Hawaiian Islanders.

The former rivals will raise money for the scholarship funds at the two universities.

Among the ex-Ducks competing will be former University quarterbacks Dan Fouts, now with the San Diego Chargers, and George Shaw, who called signals for the New York Giants and the Minnesota Vikings. The two quarterbacks will be Oregon's co-captains.

Also, basketball standout Ron Lee will be there, along with Bob Newland, who played for the New Orleans Saints.

The game is co-sponsored by the Oregon Club of Portland and the OSU Varisty O Club. Each team will consist of 25 former letter winners from the school.

The game will begin at 6 p.m., admission is $3.75, which is good for the softball game and the Beavers-Islanders contest.

Ducks join U.S. soccer team

Emerald photo

Michelle Potestio, who lead Oregon's soccer team with 22 goals last fall, joins Therese Bottomly and Louise Later on the U.S. Select Team.

Bottomly, Later, Potestio make European tour

Three members of Oregon's women's soccer team have been invited on a 15-day European tour with the United States All Select team.

Co-captains Therese Bottomly and Louise Later and All-American Michele Potestio left this week for a tour that will include games in Denmark, Sweden and Germany, said Oregon soccer coach John Feeney.

Potestio led Oregon's scoring during the fall season with 22 goals, but missed most of the spring because of injury.

In May, the Ducks split its contests at the Cal-Invitational.

Oregon's women's soccer team finished its fall season with a 10-1-3 record to capture the Northwest championship.

In May the athletic department announced the team would be returned to a club sport level.

A.D. search narrows to six finalists

Those watching Oregon's search for a new athletic director saw the field narrow to six candidates this week as the finalists begin the series of campus interviews.

Although it is unknown who all the candidates are, Oregon officials did say that Gary Cunningham, the athletic director at Western Oregon State College, had withdrawn. Cunningham was one of the six-finalists.

Three candidates did confirm their status to the Eugene Register-Guard.

The three are: Rick Bay, the associate director of the University of Michigan Alumni Association and a former wrestling coach; Jerry Long, director of promotions at UCLA who played football and coached at Oregon State; and Don Kelley, the athletic director at Illinois State.

Bay and Long were interviewed on campus by the 12-member search committee this week, while Kelley will finish next week. Three more candidates could be interviewed.

an intimate creation from Infinity . . . for you.

Infinity Intimate Stereo $225<sup>00</sup>

Infinity FM Stereo Module $50<sup>00</sup>

Infinity does it again.

This is the ultimate musical accuracy in personal stereo:

- Dolby noise reduction for minimum tape hiss
- Dual flywheel drive for reduced wow and flutter
- Optional FM stereo module pops in just like a cassette
- 3 IF stages assure superior FM reception
- Featherweight open-air headphones
- Equalization for metal tapes, 2 headphone output jacks, four battery power, AC-adaptable carrying case and strap. And more.

Come and listen.
You'll hardly believe your ears!

napier audio

2705 WILLAMETTE STREET

485-1945