LOOKING FOR INVOLVEMENT? Our College Ministry is growing, both in character and size. This year we can honestly say that if you want to develop yourself or your role in the Lord's family, we have a place for you. You will be ministered to and have an opportunity to minister. Our goal is full fellowship with the entire church family in order to promote personal growth and to honor the Lord. Come find out what FBC is all about.

Fan

Finally the reporter thought he had located a true Duck fan, a supporter who had nothing but nice things to say about the struggling Oregon program.

"I think they're the greatest," said Goldie Taylor, an enthusiastic fan in her late 40s.

"I'm not worrying about them," she said of the Ducks as the Huskies had the ball and a final minute to kill before victory.

"(Rich) Brooks is a good coach. I know that! I only got to see my Duckies play once last year, and this is the first time this season, but I love 'em. They just had a bad day today. I've seen them, though, when they looked like the Superbowl champs."

Which game did she see last year?

"The Washington disaster."

And the Washington game this year also, observed the reporter.

"The Oregon disaster," she sang, flashing a purple-and-gold Washington sweater and skipping happily into the Huskies cheering section.

And the search goes on.

Houston, A's need one victory

Yankees beat Milwaukee, Phillies fall to Montreal

(AP) — Pinch-hitter Denny Walling's two-out, line-drive single into right-center field with the bases loaded in the bottom of the 11th inning carried the Houston Astros to a 1-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers to highlight baseball's post-season play Wednesday.

Walling's clutch hit on a 1-1 pitch from reliever Tom Niedenfuer scored Phil Garner from third base with the winning run, as the Astros jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the National League West Division playoffs.

In Kansas City, the Royals fell for the second day in a row to the Oakland A's, as Tony Armas hit two singles and two doubles to drive in both Oakland runs in the A's 2-1 victory over Kansas City. Oakland leads the American League West Division series, 2-0.

The New York Yankees opened their American League East Division playoffs with a 5-3 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

Rick Cerone lined a two-run double to cap a four-run New York fourth inning, and the Yankees insured the victory with brilliant relief pitching by Ron Davis and Rich Gossage.

Davis earned the victory with 2 2-3 innings of hitless, four-strikeout relief after the Brewers had scored their final run off Yankees starter Ron Guidry in the fifth. Gossage relieved Davis in the eighth and finished up.

Tim Wallach and Chris Speier combined for the go-ahead run in the second inning off Steve Carlton as the Montreal Expos beat the Philadelphia Phillies 3-1 in the National League East Division playoffs.

Los Angeles and Kansas City are in danger of being eliminated when their respective playoffs resume Friday. The Dodgers will host the remainder of their series with Houston, while the final three games in the AL West will be played in Oakland.

The second games in the Montreal-Philadelphia and Milwaukee-New York playoffs take place tonight with the Yankees in Milwaukee and the Expos hosting Philadelphia.

Warren to run after all

Oregon distance running star Leann Warren will join the Oregon women's cross-country squad for the remainder of the season.

Warren, who won the Fifth Avenue Mile in New York last month, had earlier decided to skip the fall sport to rest and concentrate on track.

"I feel like I had a rest at the end of the summer, and that I can help the team by running this fall," says Warren, the women's collegiate mile record holder.

In an Emerald story reporting last weekend's Cal-Nike meet, Oregon runner Joan Hopfenspirger was mistakenly left off the race results. Hopfenspirger finished 18th overall, and third for the Ducks, with a time of 18:24.0.

Vikings whip Duck netters in three games

The Oregon volleyball team was upended by powerful Portland State University 6-15, 6-15, 12-15, Tuesday at McArthur Court.

Oregon, with frontliners Karen Beamer and Ronda Dalthrop sidelined by injuries, couldn't keep up with the talented Vikings.

"We played pretty well, considering we were without Beamer and Dalthrop," said coach Chris Voelz. "PSU is a really strong team and the match was much closer than the score indicated."

Voelz was right. The Ducks played tough every game, but lacked the personnel to keep up with the Vikings. The two teams traded serve during the entire match, but Oregon didn't follow up its opportunities, while PSU did.

The Ducks, 7-19-2 for the season, will have a week to heal before taking on the University of Montana Oct. 15 in Missoula.
