

Local groups unite to observe food day

A diverse coalition of local groups is sponsoring a celebration of World Food Day on Friday.

Girl Scouts, the University Food-Op, Clergy and Laity Concerned, the Chicano Affairs Center and the Lane United Nations Association are some of the groups involved in celebrating the anniversary of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

Richard Clinton, political science professor at Oregon State University, will speak about world hunger and foreign policy at 11:30 a.m. A staff member of the Willamette Valley Immigration Project, Ramon Ramirez, will present his views on hunger, migrant workers and United States policy on Mexico at 12:15 p.m.

Father Jesus Nieto of El Salvador will discuss his recent work in Honduras aiding Salvadoran refugees and analyze the connection between hunger and militarism. Nieto's presentation is scheduled for 1 p.m.

All the above events will be held at First Methodist Church at 14th Avenue and Olive Street.

United States food policy legislation will be discussed at 10 a.m. by an aide to Congressman Jim Weaver, D-Ore. and at 7:30 p.m. Nieto will speak about "Fleeing Repression: El Salvador's Refugees," at Emerald Baptist Church, 19th Avenue and Patterson Street.

Other World Food Day events will be held at the Eugene Public Library, including a talk about Lane County hunger problems at 2 p.m. and a discussion of Native American fishing rights at 3 p.m.

Films for children are on the agenda from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Lunch will be served at First Methodist Church from 11:15 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. for a charge of 50 cents to $1.50.

Law publication issued

Legal issues involved in American public land use are the subject of the 1981 fall issue of the "Oregon Law Review" recently published by the University law school. The publication contains an introduction by former U.S. interior secretary Cecil Andrus.

Articles address state and federal laws and regulations affecting wildlife management, wilderness and natural resource taxation.

In the introduction, Andrus warns that "these key issues concerning our public lands could, like Mt. St. Helens, erupt during this decade."

Copies of the Oregon Law Review, published four times a year, may be purchased for $4 at the law school.
