AWACS bill gains nine supporters

WASHINGTON

Pres. Reagan switched three opponents and picked up six other votes from among the uncommitted Tuesday in a major gain for his fight to rescue an $8.5 billion Saudi arms sale from Senate defeat.

The gains put the president within three votes of a come-from-behind victory for the sale of AWACS radar planes and F-15 jet fighter weaponry and left Senate Democratic Whip Alan Cranston of California conceding, "We may well lose" when the Senate considers the sale on Wednesday.

The latest Associated Press count had 52 senators declared against the sale, 47 announced or leaning in favor, and one undecided.

Switching in favor of the sale were Sen. Roger Jepsen, R-Iowa, who had been opposed, and Sens. Charles Grassley, R-Iowa, and J. James Exon, D-Neb., both of whom had been leaning against it.

Six uncommitted senators came out in favor of the sale Tuesday. They were: John Melcher, D-Mont., Bob Dole, R-Kan., Harrison Schmitt, D-N.M., Walter Huddleston, D-Ky., David Boren, D-Okla., and Frank Murkowski, R-Alaska.

At the White House, Reagan told reporters Tuesday afternoon: "I think it looks good." He refused, however, to claim victory, stating he was "cautiously optimistic."

Police arrest terrorist suspect

NEW YORK

One hundred law officers seeking suspects in a bloody $1.6 million Brink's holdup raided a Mississippi farmhouse Tuesday and arrested a woman alleged to have links with a terrorist organization, officials said.

Meanwhile, a federal complaint unsealed here Tuesday identified two others wanted in the investigation of the Oct. 20 robbery that claimed the lives of two police officers and a Brink's guard.

And U.S. Attorney John Martin of New York said he will empanel a grand jury to investigate a possible racketeering conspiracy by members of the Weather Underground, Black Liberation Army, the Black Panthers and other radical groups.

Cynthia Boston, 33, was arrested in Gallman, Miss., on a charge of conspiracy to commit armed bank robbery, specifically the Brink's holdup, according to authorities in Mississippi, New York and Washington.

In addition to Miss Boston, the complaint named for the first time two others wanted in connection with the investigation. They were identified as William Johnson, also known as Balil Sunni-Ali and said to be Miss Boston's common-law husband, and Donald Weems, an escapee from a New Jersey prison. Both were suspected of being BLA members.

Black guerillas attack police station

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa

Guerrillas using a Soviet-made automatic rifle and grenades killed two policemen and wounded a third in an attack on a police station in the black homeland of Venda, a police spokesman said Tuesday.

One guerrilla entered the station late Monday night and opened fire with an AK-47 rifle, then two other men threw hand grenades into the building before fleeing, the spokesman said.

It was the third attack by guerrillas this year in which people were killed. Last week, two white construction workers were shot dead by guerrillas with AK-47s. In September, three policemen were killed in a similar attack on a police station in the black homeland of Bophuthatswana.

Senate committee raps CIA proposal

WASHINGTON

The Senate Intelligence Committee urged the Reagan administration Tuesday to scrap its proposal to let the CIA infiltrate and try to influence U.S. organizations.

After a one-hour closed meeting, Committee Chairman Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said the panel unanimously agreed to recommend that the administration retain the almost complete ban on CIA infiltration of U.S. groups imposed by then-Pres. Carter in January 1978.

"The CIA is designed to do foreign intelligence, period," Vice Chairman Daniel Moynihan, D-N.Y., said after the meeting.

CIA spokesman Dale Peterson had no comment on the committee action, but a Reagan official, who declined to be identified, said last week the administration was committed to studying any recommendations the panel makes even though Reagan has the authority to sign it on his own.

Local Sierra Club opens campaign

PORTLAND

The Portland-area group of the Sierra Club announced Tuesday a six-month campaign to make people aware of what it considers to be environmentally destructive federal policies and proposals.

Chairman Bruce Henderson of the club's Columbia Group said at a news conference that the program will focus on the environmental attitudes of Pres. Reagan and, more especially, Interior Secretary James Watt.

U.S. Rep Les AuCoin, D-Ore., will speak at the first of six monthly public programs Nov. 2 in Portland on Watt's policies and proposals.

Subsequent programs will be on wilderness, energy, clean air, the Columbia Gorge and the so-called sagebrush rebellion.

The national Sierra Club, an 89-year-old conservation group, presented 1.1 million signatures to Congress last week calling for Watt's removal. The Oregon Chapter, to which the Columbia Group belongs, contributed 30,000 of the signatures.

ABC wins weekly television war

NEW YORK

ABC got the anticipated helping hand from baseball's World Series and won the networks' prime-time ratings race for the first time this season, according to figures released Tuesday by the A.C. Nielsen Co.

ABC ended CBS' two-week run as the No. 1 network in the weekly competition, a string begun with the start of the 1981-82 season Oct. 5.

ABC's rating for the week was 23.1 to 19.5 for CBS and 14 for NBC. The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute, 23.1 percent of the nation's homes with television were tuned to ABC.

ABC's broadcast of the opening series game Tuesday night between the New York Yankees and the Los Angeles Dodgers was the week's highest-rated show.

Egypt, Israel sign tourism accord

TEL AVIV, Israel

Israel and Egypt, declaring their relations to be peaceful and normal, signed a tourism accord Tuesday and emphasized their desire for an early agreement on self-rule for Palestinians living under Israeli occupation.
