THE EMU CULTURAL FORUM presents
Picnic at Hanging Rock
"Everything begins and ends at exactly the right time and place." So says Miranda (Anne Lambert) as she leads three feminine companions to ascend Hanging Rock, a geological formation in Australia. One girl turns back, the other three mysteriously disappear, as does the teacher chaperoning the girls from Appleyard College on their Valentine's Day picnic in 1900. What becomes of them is never certain, though one girl is later found alive and hopelessly confused. Directed by Peter Weir, (Last Wave), Picnic at Hanging Rock is a visually symbolic film with beautifully atmospheric photography and a haunting musical score.

Woody Allen and Diane Keaton in SLEEPER
In this hilarious sci-fi comedy, Woody plays Miles Monroe, a health-food proprietor, who goes into the hospital in 1973 for an ulcer and wakes up 200 years later. The confused Miles confronts a world in which robots do all the daily chores of living. Vegetables grow to monstrous proportions and the bored humans amuse themselves by using a machine called an "Orgasmotron."
