Students win grant

Two University alumni and two doctoral students are among the 506 scholars nationwide who have received Fulbright Travel Grants for graduate study abroad during the 1981-82 academic year.

John Floyd, a 1978 alumnus currently a graduate student at the University of Hawaii, Honolulu, is studying political science in the Philippines.

Steven White, a 1975 alumnus now a graduate student at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, is studying modern European history in Italy.

The two university doctoral students who received Fulbright awards have also been awarded assistantships to teach English in German high schools

Sarah Mangan, a doctoral degree candidate in Germanic languages and literatures, is teaching in Rheinland-Pfalz.

Ruth Mills-Price, a doctoral degree candidate in comparative literature, is teaching in Leverkusen-Rheindorf.

Pilot Training

The U.S. Air Force will train 1,500 pilots this year. It's your opportunity to join America's Aerospace Team. Receive the best flight training and proudly wear the prestigious wings of an Air Force pilot.

If you're a college senior or a recent graduate, up to 26 years old, a U.S. citizen, and in good physical health, find out if you can qualify with no obligation. You may be one of the selected few to become a pilot with the Aerospace team.
